

Candidates Talk, Sparks Fly at Crowded Sun Night

The area's six candidates for public office in Tuesday's election debated the major issues of their respective campaigns before about 400 persons at The Sun's Candidates' Night at Acalanes High School Wednesday evening.

The meeting was divided into three separate debates—one involving each of the races for Congressman, State Senator and Assemblyman.

LAST ON THE program was the meeting between incumbent Republican Congressman John Baldwin and Democrat Douglas Page, Walnut Creek city councilman, who are battling for the Sixth District seat in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Page charged his opponent is more concerned with public works projects than with issues of war and peace, and he said, "A Walnut Creek Flood Control project going to do us any good at all if we are obliterated in a nuclear war."

The Walnut Creek challenger said Rep. Baldwin can't get things done when he is a member of the minority party in a democratic

Congress, "especially when the six neighboring Congressional districts are all represented by Democrats."

BALDWIN EXPLAINED that he has voted on every roll call in the House during the six years of office and that when a question of disarmament is raised it achieves the same status as a treaty and must be ratified by the Senate, not the House.

"I am convinced on the basis of all the information available to me as a member of the United States Congress that, as of today, the United States is the strongest military nation in the world," Baldwin said.

George Krueger, Concord vice mayor and Republican candidate for the Assembly, raised five major questions in his debate with Democratic Assemblyman Jerome Waldie. He said the 1961 State Legislature will be faced with problems of taxation, narcotics legislation, welfare abuses, farm labor and water.

HE CHARGED, "My opponent has been a follower of the governor, and we don't need followers of the governor in the State Legislature."

Waldie said that in 1958 when former U.S. Senator William Knowland, a Republican, and Governor Edmund G. Brown were campaigning for the gubernatorial post, both cited the need for tax increases throughout the state because of large deficits in the budget.

He added that a recent article by a deputy district attorney in Los Angeles County supports his position that stiffer narcotics penalties would "lull us into a false sense of security."

"I AM A LAYMAN," the Assemblyman said, "and I am willing to leave the decision on narcotics penalties to judges, prosecutors and police chiefs." He explained the majority of these people in California are opposed to stiffer penalties.

The Republican candidate for the State Senate, King Parker, Jr., said, "I am vitally concerned with the current trend of thinking in the State Legislature which is one of ultra-liberalism and give away."

Parker said his opponent, State

Senator George Miller, Jr., has supported the increased taxes and establishment of "about 50" new commissions which have characterized the current state government.

HE CHARGED that schools and colleges in the state should be paid for out of general obligation bonds, so that they will be paid for by the generations which use them.

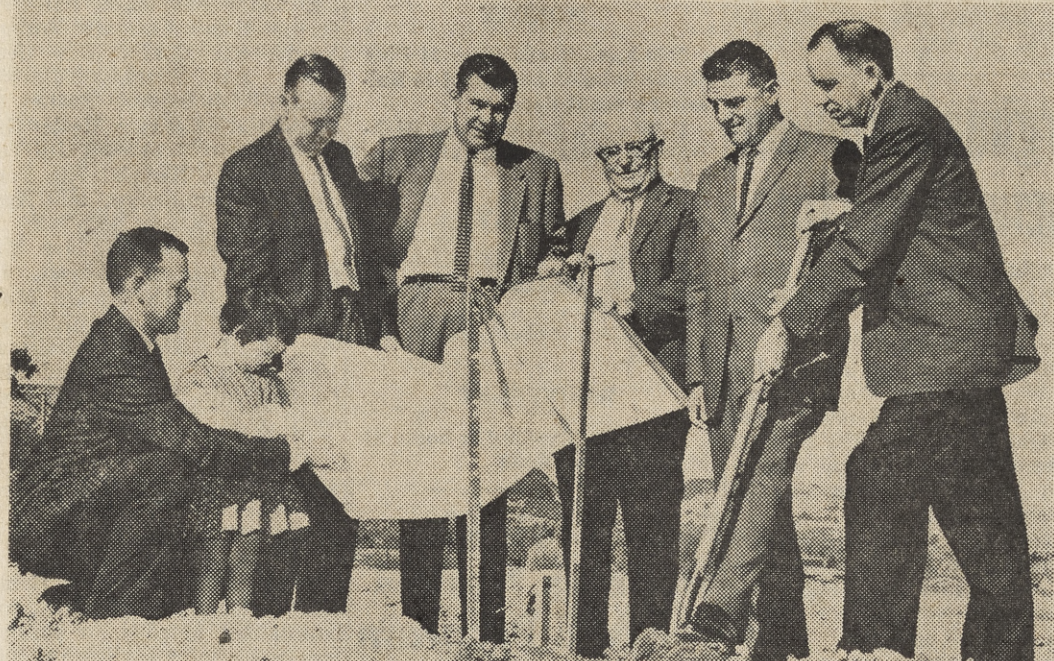

Miller pointed out the 1959 tax hikes in the state were the first California has had in 14 years.

The state senator, who heads the Legislature's important joint budget committee, explained that to his knowledge only three new commissions have been established. The remaining boards and committees, he said, are only advisory in nature.

He said he authored legislation which enabled school children in the state to have the best available textbooks and, at the same time, saved the state $1.3 million in textbook funds.

"If we do our best instead of just talking about it," Miller said, "we have nothing to fear from the Russians, in education or anywhere else."

Over 200,000 Voters Are Eligible to Vote Tuesday

More than 200,000 Contra Costa voters will have the opportunity to pick the candidates of their choice Tuesday, and also express their opinions on 15 state propositions.

County Clerk Walter Paasch has files on a record breaking 202,184 person registration, and a virtual record breaking ballot, all of which indicates a long haul before returns begin to come in next Tuesday night.

BESIDES the Presidential candidates, seven California Supreme and Appellate Court posts, plus the propositions, appear on the ballots.

And there are plenty of local elections, too.

Central county voters will decide between Congressman John F. Baldwin Jr. and Attorney Douglas Page for the 6th Congressional District seat, and on the state level they will choose between State Senator George Miller Jr. and King Parker Jr., Walnut Creek businessman.

In the 10th Assembly District race, Assemblyman Jerry Waldie faces opposition from Concord Councilman George Krueger.

ALSO APPEARING on central county ballots will be directors for the East Bay Municipal Utility District from other wards, but there is no contest.

Other races of interest, although they will not appear on local ballots, include the run-off race for County Supervisor from the fourth district, where Supervisor Warren G. Buchanan of Pittsburg is opposed by Edmund A. Linscheid. Buchanan led the three-candidate race in the primary, which saw John E. Bugni eliminated.

In other areas voters will also be faced with school bond issues and hospital district directorships.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., and the county elections office will stay open all night tabulating the county vote.

Sun Will Shine Early Thursday, Rain or Shine

Thanksgiving won't come a day early this year, but there are some surprises in store just the same!

You'll get your Sun on Thursday next week, instead of the usual Friday.

It's not that The Sun staff just can't wait to get the news and ads to you, but the fact that the post office is celebrating Veterans Day next Friday makes it incumbent to get The Sun in the mail for delivery to your home on Thursday.

But this poses other problems, too. Any of you who have publicity releases for your clubs and organizations are requested to get them to the editor as soon as possible. Preferably today, but on Monday for sure.

Classified and display advertising deadlines are not changed.

School District To Elect 5-Man Board in Spring

An entire board of five members will be elected next spring to govern the Moraga School District which, after nearly 100 years of one and two-teacher schools, now has the highest rate of growth in the county.

The election April 18 will probably mark the first time in Contra Costa school history that an already established district has been called upon to elect a complete five-man board. Since terms are staggered, this cannot happen ordinarily. But, explains County Superintendent Floyd Marchus, the unusual situation arises from new state school election laws and a series of coincidences.

TWO MEMBERS will be elected to newly created posts. The Moraga board has voted to expand its number from three to five, as provided by state law when a district's attendance reaches 300. Last year's average daily attendance was 301. This compares with 35 in 1950. Candidates will file specifically for the new positions, and of the two elected, the new member receiving the higher number of votes will serve a four-year term and the other, a two-year term.

Terms of all three present members expire for the following reasons:

That of Rex A. Collings, Jr., normally expires in 1961. The term of Donald Falconer, the board's present clerk, was automatically extended one year to 1961 when the legislature made election of school board members biennial rather than annual.

AS A NEWLY appointed board member, Dr. N. Leonard Morgenstern will serve only until the next election. Dr. Morgenstern's appointment to succeed Thomas C. Peek, resigned, was announced by the county superintendent and confirmed by the Contra Costa County Board of Education, October 25.

Moraga is one of the oldest school districts in the county, dating back at least to 1865, the year of the earliest records in the county superintendent's office.

Baby Sitters Are Offered for Voters

Sidewalk baby sitting, an aid for voters on Election Day, will be offered by Girl Scout Troops 379 and 254 at the following voting places:

Boy Scout Hut on El Toyonal; Simpson home at 160 Camino Don Miguel; Orinda Community Church, library room; Gibbs home at 134 Sleepy Hollow Lane; Majka home at 100 Sleepy Hollow Lane; Sleepy Hollow School, nurse's room; St. Stephens Church; Seaman home at 19 St. James Court.

Mrs. William Brock is leader of the troop with the Mesdames George Hall and Robert Rieser acting as co-leaders.

Parallel Parking To Be Tried in Congested Area

The County Board of Supervisors has recommended the emergency repeal of section of Ordinance 958 at the request of the Division of Highways and the Public Utilities Commission.

The repeal will change parking on the easterly side of Brookwood Road between Moraga Way and Camino Pablo in Orinda from diagonal to parallel, and allow the operation of traffic in three lanes.

The purpose is to remove present congestion on this street and to permit traffic to operate smoothly.

IT WAS ALSO recommended that parking be limited to one hour between 8 a.m. and 6 p.m., except Sundays and holidays, along the west side of Brookwood Road beginning at the intersection of Moraga Way and extending southerly to the intersection of Camino Pablo.

Also limited to one hour parking at the above stated times will be the east side of Brookwood Road, beginning at the intersection of Moraga Way and extending southerly to the intersection of Camino Pablo.

Exceptions to the one hour limit are: Parking beginning at a point 228 feet south of Moraga Way and extending southerly a distance of 28 feet, will be limited to 10 minutes at all times. This is the site of the Post Office. Also excepted are areas where parking is otherwise prohibited by law.

THE CHANGE from diagonal to parallel parking along this section is to be a 90-day experiment, suggested by Mark Kermit, county traffic engineer, as a means of solving the problem of eastbound commuter buses which must leave the freeway to pick up and discharge passengers.

Kermit recently told directors of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce that the State Public Utilities Commission had concluded a report which pointed out that it is best for commuter buses to remain on freeways, and to discharge passengers at turnouts. The report recommended an east-bound turnout for Orinda, Kermit said, and explained it would cost the state about $60,000.

But he added, J. P. Sinclair, District IV engineer for the Division of Highways, reported the state would not build the turnout unless the 90-day experiment in parallel parking were first tried out.

Lions To Hold Rummage Sale

The Orinda Lions Club will hold its annual fund raising rummage sale November 13 at Miller's Rummage Rooms in Berkeley. Chairman Griff Squires announced that donations of all kinds of rummage would be appreciated. It can be dropped at two collection depots: Moraga Nursery and Orchard Nursery.

Foot Mail Delivery Is Possible

Objectivity Is Needed Here

AN EDITORIAL

The controversy which has erupted in Orinda as a result of a program which was sponsored by the Orinda Parents Club 11 days ago requires some objective study at this time.

The program was a questionable one for presentation before a parents' club, which is, according to its bylaws, "non-political."

But the film, "Operation Abolition," which concerns the San Francisco disturbances before the House Un-American Activities Committee last May, is newsworthy, interesting and has been shown to students at the University of California.

IF THE PEOPLE of Orinda showed enough interest and desired to use the showing of the film as a nucleus for a pro and con discussion following it, there probably is no reason why the film should not have been so used.

SEE PAGE 5 FOR LETTERS

Certainly, Orindans are sufficiently adult to see and discuss such a movie.

Apparently, however, the members of the club's executive committee who arranged for the program wanted it presented in order to propagate their own beliefs. They arranged the program without the benefit of prior consultation with other board members and then refused to offer a pro and con program on the film.

REGARDLESS of how the program was presented, there was no need for the presence of seven armed sheriff's deputies at a parents' club meeting, which was attended by club members, other residents of Orinda and college students.

And the newsletter which was sent home announcing the program certainly should not have been communicated via school children.

The opinionated announcement definitely falls into the category of "propaganda," which led officials of a neighboring school district to refuse to distribute fluoridation information by school children.

WE MIGHT ADD here that a simple, objective announcement of the meeting and the program would have been acceptable to all Orindans.

There is much more that can be said on this subject, but this is the time when all interested persons should read the "Letters to the Editor" in today's Sun and should look objectively at what has been done here.

The meeting and its resultant controversy is now over—cooler heads should be permitted to prevail and the entire matter should be forgotten.

WILLIAM ANDERSEN, LEFT, and Frank Thaxter received their Eagle Scout awards Wednesday evening at a court of honor at the Lafayette-Orinda Presbyterian Church. William, 15, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Andersen Jr. of 29 Meadow Park Court. He is a junior at Miramonte. Frank, also 15, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Thaxter of 22 Greenwood Court, and is a sophomore at Miramonte.

President Says Film Not Subject Of Meeting

By LARRY GLAZIER

The president of the Orinda School Parents Club said this week that the club's controversial program on October 24 was concerned not with the pros and cons of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, but only with the subject of communism.

O. T. Buffalow said the meeting arranged by himself and the club's program chairman, Mrs. Anna Mae Dana, "was one on 'Communism — Its Dangers to America and to Our Youth.'"

HE ADDED, "For such a program, we did not believe it appropriate or desirable to invite a speaker having an opposing point of view."

The club president explained that the speaker, Dr. Joost Sluis, an orthopedic surgeon at the University of California Medical Center and director of the Northern California branch of the Christian Anti-Communist Crusade, was invited to discuss communism and not the House committee.

According to Buffalow, the film, "Operation Abolition," depicting the San Francisco disturbances at the hearings of the committee last spring, was shown merely as an illustration of Dr. Sluis' talk.

Buffalow's statement in answer to a question from The Sun continued, "Communism is not a political issue. We are not a political organization. The speaker used the film as an illustration of the dangers of communism."

"We believe that all parents of Orinda school children are capable of judging a speech and a film and drawing their own conclusions."

"WE HAVE TOLD those who protested our October 24 program that the executive board would be happy to consider any future program proposed by any member of the parents club. We suggested that such proposals be submitted in writing to our program chairman."

Meanwhile, Dr. Sluis challenged Dr. Leonard Roth, an Orinda school parent, to a public debate on "The Soviet Blueprint for the Overthrow of the United States Government."

He said the debate could take place anytime, and he outlined the following ground rules: Each speaker would have 20 minutes for a statement and 10 minutes for rebuttal; then, each speaker could ask two questions of his opponent and the audience could ask two questions of each speaker.

Last week, Dr. Roth, in a letter to The Sun, called Dr. Sluis "a befuddled young man" and said "he lies" when he claims the communist overthrow of the United States is inevitable.

Charles D. Wagner, treasurer of the parents club and one of those who protested the program, pointed out that the club is a "non-sectarian, non-political" organization, and can have its tax-exempt status revoked by the U.S. Treasury Department if it carries on propaganda or attempts to influence legislation.

Wagner said, "Thus it can happen when sincere people, dedicated to one viewpoint, are so convinced of the correctness of their cause that they sacrifice principle for expediency."

Plan Could Start When Merchants Request It

Orinda merchants can have foot delivery of mail to their stores whenever they desire it, Postmaster Laura Mallory told members of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce Tuesday at a luncheon meeting.

Mrs. Mallory's remark was made in response to a question from Merle Brown of the Wells Fargo-American Trust bank, who asked when foot delivery of the mail could be started in Orinda's business areas.

The postmaster reported the matter has been brought before the chamber for discussion in past years, but that the chamber members stated then they would rather have post office boxes for the many required daily pickups.

SHE SAID it would not be feasible for the post office to provide two foot deliveries daily to the merchants because there would not be enough mail.

But Mrs. Mallory indicated she had intended to establish foot delivery service from the new post office location whenever it becomes a reality.

The Post Office Department's San Francisco regional office is to receive bids on leasing and construction of a new, larger post office for Orinda today. A decision on the post office location will be announced after the bids have been studied.

MRS. MALLORY explained that if the new post office is located in the Village area a contract station could be placed on the Crossroads side of Orinda as an accommodation for the purchase of stamps.

She said there is a once a day delivery of mail in the Village area at present, and a truck is used to deliver packages there. She added that a letter box drop has been placed at the intersection of Camino Sobrante and Miner Road.

The chamber also voted to ask the county to install school zone or 25 mile per hour traffic signs at the Moraga Way entrance to Miramonte High School. The county will also be asked to remove the existing 45 mile per hour signs.

KEN COURTRIGHT, vice president of the chamber, said, "I think the 45 mile an hour speed limit is too fast at that entrance to the school, and this makes the crosswalk there unsafe."

Courtright called attention to the one death which has occurred there and said he almost was hit by a car a week ago. John Ogden reported that the Orinda American Field Service chapter collected $1796 in its annual fund raising campaign last Sunday. He said the goal was $1900, which cares for three exchange students in Orinda.

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

Double, Double, Toil & Trouble!

If you thought YOU had troubles & you took yourself off to hear "Dear Abby" (last Wed.) lecture on "The Troubles I've Seen," well, you've probably laughed yours all away by now! Since this goes to press the morn of Abby's matinee lecture, we'll have to do a post-write up of the Orinda Woman's Club benefit theatre program last week.

A FEW OF OUR FAIR witches recovered Hallowe'en well enough to go to a little trouble themselves, boil & bubble, for a bevy of luncheon parties preceded the Chronicle columnist's 1:30 lecture.

Whipping up a magic potion & a few choice toadstools for her luncheon guests was Nancy (Mrs. Richard) Evans, OWC committee member, who entertained pre-noon for her Orinda neighbors that incl. the Mesdames Henry Dickerson, Rod Janks, Frank Thomas, Hilda Laurensen, Glen Flummerfeld, John Maga, Ralph Miner & Robert Harris.

Over in Sleepy Hollow, Virginia (Mrs. Paul) Gregg, another committee member, brewed a mysterious concoction for the Mesdames J. J. McCaffrey, Hamilton Stevenson, Carl R. James, James Du Pui, Owen Owens, William Leonard, all of Orinda & Mrs. George Buchner of Lafayette.

ANOTHER LUNCHING BUNCH gathered at the Meadow View Rd. of their hostess neighbor when Mary (Mrs. Eldon) Parsons kept her kettle cooking for the Mesdames Glenn Carter, Fred Dunn, Fred Fagiano, John Garetto, Howard Gravelle & Warren Hagstrom. More Meadow Viewers here going on to hear the sobriest columnist who salts her sage & sensible advice w/humor were the Mesdames John Mortarotti, Eugene Pearson, Victor Viale, Francis Watson, Jr., Ralph White & Caesar Candia.

LADIES, don't linger over your dessert! Today (Wed.) Jeanne (Mrs. Rhys) Miller is also hosting a luncheon gathering at her El Gabilan home for the Mesdames Floyd Carpenter & Grabe Smith of Orinda, Mrs. Ralph Presher of Laf., who will be joined by townsides-of-the-tunnel guests.

GUESTS from as far away as San Mateo will turn up on the Vernon Louis threshold in Sleepy Hollow for the luncheon Lorena will hostess for her guests Mesdames Charles Fry, Thomas Howard, Robert Bonner & W. E. Estes who won't have to do much more than cross the street for their sipping & salad greens. Another localite joining the out-of-town lunchers will be Mrs. Charles Martin of Lafayette.

IF WE HURRY, we can still make it to Jan Soubielle's home where the Orinda Woman's Club president will preside over her own luncheon table before dashing to Rheem & the stage introduction of Dear Abby. Jan is being very secretive about her decorations . . . but by an accidental drop-in, we've learned that the Chronicle newspaper tubes can make a handsome flower container . . . esp. if you're featuring one of the paper's most popular writers.

HALLOWEEN Leftovers . . . Local moths left their domestic duties last Mon. for a trip to school to view the annual parade of ghosts & goblins . . . At Orinda, quite a humorous assortment of costumery—everything from a huge ruffled paper Pinata chicken to a black-haired Geisha girl w/blonde bangs showing, an Invisible Man bandaged from head to toe . . . & red-haired Reed Harding, half-devil, half-angel.

UP AT PINE GROVE, hair spray was the hit of the day & one cute blue-haired 7th grader w/tears chalked on her cheeks wore a sign on her back . . . Remember that old song—"Am I BLUE?"

As Sophia Loren w/long black curling eyelashes & a Max Factor make-up job, Juliette Ohleyer was ravishing . . . Betsy Brock had her hair in a Topsy-turvy, rubber-banded kink curls ALL OVER! Some of the 7th grade girls sashayed the schoolgrounds in sleazy satin Beatnik garb & some of the boys looked like-right out of outer space, man, w/that crazy gold & silver hairspray! Mainly, fathers long white shirts topped ragged chopped-off bluejeans w/some of the youngsters sporting straw hats won at Sleepy Hollow's Carnival held Sat.

IS EVERYBODY Happy?

THE HAPPY HAPPY ONES . . . Timmy is the name of the senior Bill Koches newest grandchild, a son born to the junior Bill Koches of Concord . . . & is there ANYBODY happier than Laurie Flemmer who at long last has her very own horse name of Sunset—w/whom she spends all her spare time, sunup til sunset!

HAPPY TOO . . . Sherry Stone, 7th grader, just home from a Knickerbocker holiday in NYC w/her aunt Mrs. Walter Storey of Acacia Dr. . . . The only Blues for Lois Pixley is the brand new baby blue Falcon she's tooling around town in . . . & the Frank Schnuggs are in Eleventh Heaven since the arrival of their 11th child, 8th girl. Sev figures a rest of 8 years before resuming the cub scout & little league rounds again! But BROWNIES & ballet will keep her just as busy w/the girls!

IS ANYBODY HAPPIER than Frances & Chuck Baumann whose daughter Pam & her husband Alex Morales presented the proud new grandparents w/a pink package name of Marcia Lee Oct. 1 . . . Frances just returned mid-Oct. from Vancouver & a viewing & cooing session over the bassinet. Congratulations to the Baumanns, they of the Bermuda Pool biz.

ANYTHING can happen during an election & it usually does . . . When a white donkey turned up at an El Toyonal party, guests thought at first it was a campaign gimmick. Then the hostess called to inform the sheriff's office of the stray braying in their backyard, living room, etc. The sheriff's office answered coolly, "Lady, This line is only for emergencies."

You can check w/Kennedy hdqtrs. but honestly, it was just a pet burro being cared for by the Floyd Svenssons who were sitting the donkey when it decided to be a party crasher. NOW if we could just get that elephant that turned up in a Concord yard together w/the Donkey, what an Election Night party it would make!

ROOM FOR ONE MORE . . . (Always in the happy household of "Happy The Clown") . . . We saw Holly Goshier & Gay Warfield walking carefully along the road w/a caged possum which they were taking to the Warfield's house . . . Gay's dad Ken Warfield is the man w/the Merry-Go-Round, "Happy The Clown" who has made many a B'day Party a big success just by his pleasant presence! Starting this month, Ken will be working out of the popular Nut Bowl restaurant in WC which will sponsor birthday parties featuring his delightful antics, cartoons, etc.

HAPPY HOMECOMING for the Paul Byerles who arrived mid-week from the Philippines on leave & were met by their former neighbors Poppy & Les Rowe at the SF airport!

—& They Lived Happily Ever After . . .

FANCY FRONT . . . When it came to composing the invites for the Sat. p.m. opening of her Imports shop, Hazel Wilcox was in a dither about how to describe the address. The fancy blue-awned facade w/the gleaming gold doorknob is, let's face it, (small print, please) actually located in Lucky's Parking Lot & there's no other way of getting around it or into it. Except via Lucky's X-roads Parking Lot. Left-hand corner.

Sea Scouts Have Two Day Cruise On Napa River

The Sea Scout Ship Bonita of Orinda spent a recent two day bay cruise which included five ships from Berkeley and three from the Richmond area.

All of these ships rendezvoused at the entrance to the Mare Island channel on the Napa River on Saturday afternoon. Then they tied up for the night at the Mare Island Shipyard in Vallejo.

On Sunday morning the ships began to cruise down the Napa River in a single file fleet formation. When they reached San Pablo Bay the formation was changed to two abreast.

The flagship, a boat from Berkeley, sent directions by signal pennants and each ship relayed the message by their pennants. Many maneuvers, such as 90 degree right turn, 45 degree left turn, and formation of a single file line were executed by all ships after receiving the message from flagship.

The Bonita's signalman, Tony Roegiers, was kept busy signaling to other ships by semaphore. The ships broke the formation near the Richmond-San Rafael bridge and each ship cruised independently. The Bonita crew who went on this cruise were G. B. S. Ricketts, skipper, and John Speil, mate; Tony Roegiers, Don Flenner, Butch Hibbard, Bill Chew, Dick Sutcliffe, Jim Gibbs, Ken Wagner, Phil Gardner and Brian "Chief" Traynor.

Remember brainy Ben Leiberman whose wife was a librarian in the old Community Church library? We hear he finally finished the book, set it to music & is having his Barbary Coast comedy staged off-Broadway!

CULTURE NOTE: No need to miss out on a Christmas Ballet or rush for kts. to SF's Nutcracker . . . A beautiful production of "La Boutique Fantastique" & "Beauty & The Beast" by the Calif. Ballet Co. will come to Orinda for a Dec. 4 debut sponsored by the Miramonte Parents Club. A handsomely-polished & professional production! Don't miss it for a holiday treat! Raoul Pause directs.

Where O Where is Betty Broderick Rogers? She was due in mid-Oct. from a visit to her native stamping grounds from W. Virginy! She'll use the Ray Grassi's guest towels!

THE AUDIENCE was disappointingly small for the Water Ballet & Aquacade at Miramonte Pool last Sat. night . . . What a shame for the work that went into this delightful production! San Francisco was saluted in music, the Miramonte aqua-ballerinas being the little lovable cable cars . . . & swimmers from Las Lomas, Liberty & Acalanes represented other San Fran favorites like Nob Hill, Mtgy. Street, Golden Gate Park, No. Beach, etc. Miramonte swimmers incl. Donna Cooper, Joan Dirick, Judy Hopkins, Rae Whitney, Sharon Mossotto, Sharon Heller, Clarinda Telfer to name a few who danced in the waters under the direction of Miramonte teacher Mrs. Ann Grant.

A recent Court Of Honor for the Boy Scouts lacked in parent-audience. Too, a shame when you figure these busy full-scheduled fellows have worked hard for their honors & merit badges. "Too many meetings" is the suburban hue & cry, but some are simply that more important!

Concern For Pet Rat Results In Cancer Lecture

A frienly little rat named Spooky has unwittingly served as an instrument of education, and as an object lesson for humans.

Spooky is dead now, but through no fault of his mistress, Doreen Ubsell, who first noticed a small growth on her pet. Doreen, now a commercial major in her senior year at Pleasant Hill High School, had not forgotten what she had learned in science as a sophomore.

Doreen took the rat to school to her former science teacher, Eugene Goselin. Goselin, who suspected cancer, called Mrs. Robert C. Holt Jr., educational chairman of schools for the American Cancer Society of Contra Costa County.

HE ASKED Mrs. Holt if it would be possible to have the rat examined by one of the doctors working with the cancer program. Mrs. Holt contacted Dr. W. M. Bogart, a Concord pathologist who was willing to cooperate.

Dr. Bogart determined Spooky had cancer of the breast. Unfortunately, the time elapse involved in making all arrangements had permitted the cancer to spread rapidly. Dr. Bogart performed an emergency operation but was unable to save Spooky's life. The cancer had already spread down the rat's front leg.

A post operative examination revealed cancer in the liver. Dr. Bogart preserved the specimens and used them in his lecture last week before students of the science and biology classes and members of the Science Club at Pleasant Hill High School, who convened at their regular lunch hour meeting time.

THE LECTURE was called, "You Look at Cancer." Dr. Bogart pointed out the human corollary, that if cancer is caught in time, usually the victim can be saved. Had the lump on Spooky's breast been noted in time, Dr. Bogart believed Spooky's life, too, could have been saved.

Yesterday, as a follow up on Dr. Bogart's lecture, the same group of students viewed a film, "To Smoke or Not To Smoke," keyed to an audience of teens.

$13.8 Million Briones Bid Let

The contract for construction of Briones Dam—the largest single water development project ever undertaken in the East Bay—has been awarded by the East Bay Municipal Utility District to Guy F. Atkinson Company of South San Francisco. The bid price was $13,888,094.

At the same time, EBMUD awarded the contract for construction of the 90-inch diameter Briones Aqueduct, an integral part of the dam project, to B. J. Ukropina, T. P. Solich and Sons, Steve Kral Corp. and Vinnell Corp., a joint venture. The cost will be $549,205.

BRIONES Reservoir is one of the keystones of EBMUD's gigantic, $283 million, 10 year expansion program, aimed at meeting the East Bay's domestic and industrial water needs for the next half century.

The immense dam will be built on an east-west axis at the west end of Briones Valley, straddling

Bear Creek Road at a point 1.3 miles from the intersection of Bear Creek Road and San Pablo Dam Road north of Orinda. It will take three years to build the dam and another 2½ to 3 years to fill the 22 billion gallon reservoir, which will inundate 725 acres. The total watershed area will cover more than 86 square miles.

Briones will be an earthen dam rising 270 feet above the bed of Bear Creek and will have a crest length of 2,100 feet. Width at the base will be 1520 feet. Crest width will be 50 feet. Approximately 10 million cubic yards of earth will go into the embankment.

COMPLETION of Briones will give EBMUD five terminal reservoirs in the East Bay, of which Briones will be by far the largest, storing half again as much water as nearby San Pablo Reservoir.

Intended primarily to serve the fast-growing East of the Hills area (Orinda, Moraga, Lafayette, Walnut Creek and the San Ramon Valley), it is designed to meet the ultimate population density which planning experts predict for the area, with a safety margin in the event the experts are being too conservative.

The new dam will be versatile enough to supply water to any part of the East Bay, giving EBMUD's far-flung and complex distribution system almost infinite flexibility. The huge Briones Aqueduct, nearly a mile long, will carry water from the reservoir to an Orinda control works to be built near the west portal of Lafayette Tunnel No. 2. The tunnel, a $5 million project, is now about one-third completed.

FROM THE Orinda control works water can be diverted to East of the Hills communities by reversing the flow in the tunnel, or it can be diverted through the Orinda Filter Plant and the Claremont Tunnel to the Oakland-

Berkeley - Piedmont - Emeryville area.

Water also can be channeled, via Bear Creek, to San Pablo Reservoir and the San Pablo Filter Plant to serve the Richmond-San Pablo-El Cerrito-Pinole area.

EBMUD engineers say that Briones water can be supplied to the Orinda control works at a rate of 336 million gallons a day. By comparison, the present average daily consumption in the entire East Bay Municipal Utility District is less than 160 million gallons a day, and the most water ever consumed in one day by East Bay homes and factories was 249.5 million gallons on June 2, 1960. However, water consumption in the district is expected to reach 340 million gallons a day by the year 2000.

BRIONES WILL be filled with water from EBMUD's Mokelumne aqueducts by Briones Pumping Plant, to be constructed in conjunction with Lafayette Tunnel No. 2. After it is filled, according to EBMUD engineers, 1.1 billion gallons of local runoff annually in the San Pablo watershed will keep the reservoir at full capacity until it becomes operational.

Another advantage of Briones will be the fact that it will assist in reducing and controlling heavy runoff in the San Pablo-Creek area, thus acting, in a limited manner, as a flood control dam.

Also included in the construction of the dam will be a 243 foot outlet tower, a 3300 foot tunnel from the outlet tower to the aqueduct, and a 1565 foot spillway into Bear Creek below the dam, with a capacity of 4114 cubic feet per second.

Construction of the dam and aqueduct is expected to start this month. The work of clearing the dam site and nearby borrow pits has recently been completed. The remainder of the clearing job will be finished by next spring.

BRIONES RESERVOIR, to be constructed north of Orinda in Briones Valley by the East Bay Municipal Utility District, will increase EBMUD's terminal storage by 22 billion gallons. A 90-inch aqueduct, nearly a mile in length, from the dam to the west portal of Lafayette Tunnel No. 2, is an integral part of the largest single water development project ever undertaken in the East Bay.

Political Pot

THE BALDWIN for Congress Committee has named new co-chairmen in the Alamo and Danville areas. Heading the campaign in Alamo are Joseph F. Smith, vice president and director of the Alamo Improvement Association, and Alfred Jones.

The Danville contingent will be headed by John C. Steger, a member of the Danville Lions Club and active in the Danville Presbyterian Church.

DEMOCRATS are predicting a victory in the Presidential race in this area as well as a victory in the local races because of an intensive telephone campaign to get democrats to the polls next Tuesday.

The telephone drive is being conducted by the Walnut Creek Citizens for Kennedy Committee. MRS. HARMON Howard has been appointed co-chairman of the Baldwin for Congress Committee in the Walnut Creek area. She is serving with William Anderson.

GEORGE KRUEGER, 10th District Assembly Candidate, while speaking to a group of Orindans last week, emphatically denied that he has ever engaged in the use of falsified facts in his campaign.

His denial was made while speaking at a tea held in the home of Mrs. Nathan Gray. He further stated that any statements he has made regarding the incumbent's voting record can be substantiated and that he would be more than willing to produce the facts to anyone who doubted his remarks.

Also in the Orinda area, a large meeting of Krueger for Assembly workers was held at the Oak Springs Clubhouse last week. Mrs. James Irwin, Orinda campaign chairman, turned the meeting over to Mrs. Donald Krotz, county chairman.

Mrs. Krotz and Bob Cass, person to person chairman, explained the plans for the final days of the campaign.

At the same meeting Krueger outlined his stand on state taxes and pledged, if elected, to direct his energies toward a reduction in state income taxes and to join with other legislators in seeking elimination of sales taxes on drugs and medical appliances.

PLEASANT HILL Democratic Headquarters are now open for business at 1628 Contra Costa Highway, according to Craig Randall, Pleasant Hill Democratic Club President. The headquarters will be staffed by club members and Pleasant Hill volunteers.

ASSEMBLYMAN Jerome Waldie has been active in forming committees to work for his reelection. Twenty-five Contra Costa school district superintendents and principals have formed an educators committee for his reelection. Among them are: Walnut Creek: Dr. Richard Fickel, William Flynn, Mrs. Agnes Smith; Danville: Ivan Chappell, John C. Roberts, Richard F. Keefe, Roger J. Schulte; Lafayette: Ted Collins, Edward T. Brown; Pleasant Hill, Arthur Bloom.

Drs. Jonas Schreider and Robert Taines have been named to head the Medical Doctors Committee for Waldie, and Dr. Pridgen has been named to the Dental Committee for Waldie.

Trustees Discuss Graduation

State requirements and local graduation requirements were the topics of reports offered to the Acalanes Union High School District trustees by William Ross, principal of Del Valle High School, and Stanley Walgren, principal of Acalanes High School, this week.

Ross presented an outline of the areas of instruction required by the California Educational Code.

This includes a mastery of written and oral English, instruction in the U.S. Constitution, American history, American institutions and ideals and state and local government, 30 hours of classroom driver education, one period a day of physical education and instruction in first aid, fire prevention, manners, morals, tobacco, alcohol and narcotics.

Walgren followed with a description of course requirements for graduation which have been established by board direction. These include three years of English, one year of mathematics, one year of science, U.S. history, American problems, World history and geography, a proficiency examination in arithmetic and a satisfactory citizenship record.

In his report Walgren pointed out that many students exceed these requirements, citing the English requirement as an example.

In this subject, only 27 students of the 1355 enrolled at Acalanes High School are not pursuing a study of English this year.

In other business the trustees heard a report by Leland S. Russell, principal of Las Lomas High School, on the College Entrance Examination Board meeting.

They discussed with Edward Goggin, an officer of the Del Valle Parent's Club, means for financing a swimming pool at that school, authorized letters of appreciation to the Miramonte Parent's Club for gifts of a coffee maker, curtains and camera to that school and for the gift of a motor and pump to Del Valle High School by Mr. Gerald Ansell.

They awarded the contract for the sprinkling system to be installed on the Acalanes High School athletic field to Clyde Callishaw in the amount of $10,655.

Nielsen Urges No Vote on Proposition 15

Proposition 15 is "the most critical of all the issues and deserves a resounding defeat," Mel F. Nielsen, chairman of the Board of Supervisors said today in a final call to arms against the Senate reapportionment measure on Tuesday's ballot.

Nielsen, who heads a group of labor, business, farm and civic leaders in the Contra Costa County drive against the proposal, issued a ringing appeal for a 100 per cent countywide "No" vote.

"If this dangerous measure becomes law," he said, "no public issue could ever again be decided by the California legislature except on the basis of raw political power."

Noting that Los Angeles County would get 7 of the 20 remaining Senators "apportioned" to 13 southern counties, Nielsen said the measure is a "thinly-veiled attempt by certain Los Angeles politicians to arbitrarily subdivide the State's senatorial districts and shift all legislative power into the Los Angeles area."

"This reckless scheme," he concluded, "would wreak havoc in our State Government and adversely affect the jobs and prosperity of every California citizen."

Sculptor Is Valley Art Center Guest
Benny Bufano, San Francisco sculptor, will be the guest of members and friends of the Valley Art Center for cocktails and a buffet supper today at 6:30 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Barnett, 3343 St. Mary's Road in Lafayette.

Capwell's Speeding Up Building Expansion

Before the Thanksgiving Day holiday begins, Capwell's—Walnut Creek will have completed cleaning the exterior of its building.

The $1,250,000 expansion project has been speeded up.

The addition of the third floor to Capwell's was begun late in April of this year. At that time it was planned that the project would be finished early in 1961. A landmark since its opening in 1954, Capwell's is adding 50 per cent more selling area, including new facilities such as men's clothing, men's hats, radios, television, records and watch repair departments.

Capwell's Street will be blocked off for the next three Sundays to allow the D. Zelinsky & Sons' Painting and Decorating Company to finish pressure cleaning Capwell's exterior in preparation for the final painting.

This cleaning equipment utilizes perhaps the most efficient method of protecting and beautifying modern building exteriors.

Store Manager John Tague stated today, "We have always been proud of Capwell's appearance and are extremely pleased with the rapid progress of the present addition. Cooperation of all of Capwell's customers during these last few months has been appreciated."

"The addition of the extra shopping facilities are part of a long range plan to offer the best and most complete shopping service to the central Contra Costa County community we serve."

UTILITY DISTRICT Offers Firewood Free to Public
Free firewood is available to the public near the Briones Dam site in Contra Costa County, it was announced today by William T. Hartman, land maintenance superintendent for the East Bay Municipal Utility District.

The wood consists of trees which have been dropped during the Briones Reservoir site clearing operation. They may be sawed up and carried away by anyone, in any quantity, said Hartman.

The area designated for public cutting is 100 yards off the intersection of Bear Creek Road and Hampton Park Road in Briones Valley. It will be open from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. daily. Bear Creek Road, which traverses the valley, connects with San Pablo Dam Road on the west and with Upper Happy Valley Road on the east.

Signs will be posted by EBMUD along Bear Creek Road, Hartman said, directing the public to the free firewood. Temporary sanitary facilities have been set up at the site for the public's convenience.

Hartman noted that the utility district will not be responsible for the personal safety of those entering or working within the area.

Supervisors Deny School Boundary Transfers

A petition that 1,000 acres be transferred from the Mt. Diablo Unified School District to the Acalanes Union High School and Lafayette Elementary School Districts was turned down Tuesday by the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors, because state laws relating to property tax liability for school bonds are not uniform.

Property transferred out of regular or union school district continues to be taxed for its share of bonds already voted. Property transferred out of a unified district does not have to continue paying on that district's bonds.

IN NO CASE does property acquire any liability for bonds already voted by the district it is joining. Reliez Valley property owners did not seek the transfer to escape the bond debt, Assistant County School Superintendent Harold De Fraga said, but because they wanted the 11 children in the area to attend Lafayette schools.

Nixon Wins--In College Straw Ballot, That Is!

If students of Diablo Valley College are indicative of the American electorate, California's Richard M. Nixon will be the next President of the United States.

The vice president bested his democratic opponent, Senator John F. Kennedy, 314 votes to 247, in a straw vote taken on the Pleasant Hill campus Monday. The vote was sponsored by Grant Hooper's Political Science 120 class, and all DVC students were eligible to vote.

The battle between Nixon and Kennedy proved to be the closest of the four national and state contests which appeared on the college ballot. The other three races were the same as will appear on local ballots Tuesday.

In the race for representative from the Sixth Congressional District, incumbent John Baldwin received the largest DVC majority as he polled 408 votes to only 138 cast for democrat Douglas Page.

Both state legislators representing the county were retained in office by the college poll. State Senator George Miller, Jr., defeated King Parker, Jr., 340-192, and Assemblyman Jerome Waldie won over George Krueger, 325-208.

Ordinance 28 Up For Amendment

Amendment of Central Contra Costa Sanitary District's Ordinance 28 was on the board of directors' agenda last night, after The Sun's press time.

Ordinance 28 is a rebate ordinance, describing the procedure for collection and use of assessments. In Local Improvement District 30, the Alamo and Danville areas, approximately 3000 property owners paid charges for a main sewer line involving about 9000 acres.

Subsequent connectors have been assessed in accordance with district regulations, and the amounts collected into a fund which, after a five-year period, would be rebated among the original property owners in LID 30.

Last night's amendment discussion centered around extending the five-year period to 10 years before rebating.

Simon Hardware Will Open New Facilities Thursday

Simon Hardware Company's new, 100,000 square foot Walnut Creek store will be officially opened Thursday, Chairman Stanley D. Simon announced today.

Pre-opening dedication ceremonies will be held Wednesday at 10 a.m. A feature of the dedication will be the closing of a time capsule into which will be sealed predictions of products not yet invented which Simon's probably will be selling by the year 2000.

"THE PRACTICAL purpose of the time capsule," commented Simon, "lies in its being a reminder of the dynamic nature of our business. The majority of the items we stock today were not in existence when Simon's was founded in 1900."

"Strange and wonderful new products will be commonplace by the year 2000. And we shall continue our policy of bringing the latest new products to our customers."

Simon's big, Walnut Creek branch store is located on a 5 1/2 acre site across Main Street from the Broadway Shopping Center. There is parking for more than 500 cars at a time adjacent to the store, and an additional parking area is being readied nearby.

THE WALNUT CREEK store is considerably larger and more diversified than the Main Store at 8th and Broadway, Oakland.

A unique feature of the design is a 300-foot-long conveyor belt running the length of the store, which separates the warehouse and selling areas. Bulky and heavy purchases can be loaded on the belt and carried to a customer pick-up station adjoining the parking lot.

Baritone To Perform

Edgar Jones, baritone, will sing at the Diablo Valley College gymnasium next Wednesday at 8 p.m., under the sponsorship of the Committee on Arts and Lectures.

This is the second in a series. Donald Biggs, director of the California Historical Society, spoke last week.

The series will have nine sessions. Jones is a native of Berkeley and has taught music in the University of California extension division.

Tickets for the series are available at the Diablo Valley College bookstore, or they can be obtained by writing the chairman, Committee on Arts and Lectures, Diablo Valley College.

Demons So Adorable Can Be Huggable & Horrible!

By MARIE MONAHAN

AH, CHILDREN! Sometimes I wish I had so many of 'em . . . But when they make me mad, feel bad or sad, then there are times I wish I didn't have ANY of 'em!

DEAR PROGENY . . . Those pink-cheeked cherubs who start out with colored beads & rattles . . . then go from there to tantrums, tears & tattles suddenly are embarked on getting teeth knocked out in bloody scraps & battles!

Children! Who can't resist a finger on "Wet Paint" . . . & lick the frosting from the cake or stick their patties in the pudding when you've told them not to—& do the sort of things that make a mother practically FAINT!

(Ah, Les Petites Adorable!)

Why do they spoil it all by being positively horrible! (DEPLORABLE!)

CHILDREN! Who never want to go to bed at night . . . & then are up before the crack of dawn engaged in pillow fights!

Children! Who never seem to wash behind their ears. Whose necks need scrubbing, who shy away from tubbing! Who have to be reminded to say Thank You & to mind their manners with their peers.

Why is it when you call them they can never HEAR you! (THE DEARS!)

But when you just want Peace & some solitary quiet, they are always actively about, on top of or near you!

OH, CHILDREN, CHILDREN! To whom you first read Stevenson & Mother Goose. Then graduated them to A. A. Milne & Dr. Seuss . . .

Same children now who give you dirty looks when you refuse to stake them to their not-so-funny comic books!

CHILDREN who at varying ages—must go through the most bewildering, perplexing, vexing & abominable stages!

Children! Scatterers of cookie crumbs & dolls & blocks . . . Who always need your help to find their slippers or their socks! Collectors of assorted coins & trading cards & rocks . . .

LITTLE MIMICS, quick to ape & bock . . . or shock!

(Refer to Chapters Two & Six of Doctor Spock!)
CHILDREN! Lovable Lilliputians! (Sometimes they make us feel like sailing off to the Aleutians!)

CHUBBY TUBBY hungrey moppets who like their licorice & lollipoppets, not to mention jelly beans . . . & always pester you for pennies for the gum machines.

Whose favorite words are "Hey, Mom" & "No!" Who when you want them to, don't want to get cleaned up to go . . .

CHILDREN! Whose bikes are always getting flats. Who bring home frogs & mice & rats . . . & know you're soft on old stray cats!

CHILDREN! Who could subsist solely on a hamburger & peanut butter diet . . . & who honestly wish that you were willing just to try it!

HOW CAN THESE SAME small Treasures, who give us such great pleasures & put their parents in a state exotic . . .

So easily change that blissful state to one that's near NEUROTIC??!

Here Are Some Comments on 'Operation Abolition'

OPERATION ABOLITION
 Dear Editor:
 You are to be congratulated on your very fair front page coverage of the recent controversy in Orinda over the October 24 program of the Orinda School Parents Club.

I think every parent in the Parents Club should feel insulted that Mr. Buffalow thought they were so uncontrolled emotionally that they would need six armed policemen to keep them in order.

Perhaps a more disturbing facet of this whole thing is the use of the Orinda School Parents Club Newsletter. A newsletter from an organization like a Parents Club has (in common with newspapers) a duty to the people reading it that it present news and facts.

The first part of the October 11 newsletter, which you quoted in your October 28 paper and which need not be repeated here, was quite obviously a statement of opinion.

I don't question that Mr. Buffalow and Mrs. McKnight are entitled to have and to express their opinions, but I feel strongly that opinion should not masquerade as fact and that this paragraph should have appeared as a signed editorial or letter.

OPERATION ABOLITION
 Dear Editor:
 I would like to express my appreciation for the presentation of the film, "Operation Abolition," at the Orinda School on the evening of October 24, arranged by the Parents' Club of the school.

The club rendered a valuable public service to the community and is entitled to our grateful thanks. It was really heartwarming to see such a fine turnout of loyal Americans, interested in preserving our way of life.

To be sure, there was a sprinkling of misguided individuals, who by their questions during the latter part of the program evidenced a lack of appreciation of our American ideals. I have been informed that at least part of this small group came in from other areas. It is to be hoped that no one was fooled by the deceptive literature some of them passed out.

One point which some people may have missed was the fact that the noise from the rioting in the corridors of the San Francisco City Hall was to great the Superior Court judges were unable to conduct the legal business of the county, and they ordered the corridors cleared.

This was not done on orders of the Un-American Activities Committee. And, despite the statements of hostile witnesses, this committee is a legally constituted committee of the House of Representatives, functioning under a directive from that House. The major interest of the members of the committee, I am sure, is to safeguard the security of these United States.

OPERATION ABOLITION
 Dear Editor:
 Many of us left the last Orinda School Parents' Club meeting with a feeling of deep revulsion. Do the members of the Parents' Club need Dr. Sluis' kind of harangue? Is it too much to expect that its members read the newspapers, listen to the radio and are alerted to the dangers of communism?

Certainly Dr. Sluis is aware of what constitutes the basis of thoughtful attack on the House Un-American Activities Committee. If he supports its work, he would have credited his audience with some intelligence had he attempted to defend the constitutionality of the committee's behavior. Or is he so duped himself that he really would sell the Bill of Rights for that "handful" of conspirators?

And worst cut of all! Even though Dr. Sluis might be, as he sees himself, on some pinnacle of understanding, well above our own, where his vision of communist evils reveals a force working from within that could overwhelm us with all our laws and traditions of freedom and justice intact (in 1973 yet!), are we such fatheads that an idea has to be stripped of all shadings and thrown at us with fanatic force if we are to catch on?

As I say, we were sickened by it.

OPERATION ABOLITION
 Dear Editor:
 Monday night, October 24, at a Parent's Club meeting at the Orinda Union School, we were treated to a 45-minute lecture on international communism and its dangers by a befuddled young man, Dr. Joost Sluis, who is director of the anti-communist crusade of Northern California.

This was followed by a movie purporting to show the danger of communism here at home. I've attended rigged meetings before, but this was the sickest piece of brainwashing I've seen.

Beginning with the Parent's Club newsletter of October 11, to the presence of armed policemen, presumably there to control the communist agitators who infiltrate parent's club meetings, and finally to the one-sided presentation of material with no chance for effective rebuttal.

To my horror, the main point of Dr. Sluis' speech as I understand it was that we are inevitably going to be taken over by the communists. He said the communists are stronger economically, they have better educational facilities, they are cleverer than we, if they can bomb us. This is part of what he told us about our weakness, the futility of negotiation, the inevitability of defeat.

I say he lies. This man and his ilk have little or no understanding of our country and its strengths. We are a rich, strong free people and this freedom has endured and will endure if we protect it.

He talks about the march of communism across the world. What country that was not totalitarian before its present communist government have we lost? Russia? China? Poland? Hungary? Cuba? Our strengths lie in our freedom to dissent and we must understand this. Our constitution has produced a stable society. We have no masses of unhappy, oppressed citizens, part of the necessary conditions for a communist revolution.

Our victory will come from our faith in the ability of our people of all ages, students included, to be exposed to all ideas, odd or otherwise, including communism, and still remain good Americans.

What is it that the Dr. Sluises are trying to do? Have they no faith in our democratic institutions? And why this thread of defeatism and fear? I'd like to know more about this mysterious Christian Anti-Communist Crusade. They strike me as a stupid dangerous crew. We can afford dissenters: WE CANNOT AFFORD TO SUPPRESS DISSENT. Let the communists and fascists speak to us, let us listen—and let us continue in our traditional democratic way.

Dr. Sluis was followed by a movie, "Operation Abolition," an edited form of newsreel film of the disturbances at the San Francisco hearings of the House Un-American Activities Committee. The movie also has mysterious antecedents (no credits were given). The film purported to show the communists brainwashing our students and causing disturbances. I saw communists, I saw disturbances, but I didn't see what they told me I saw. I saw confusion and chaos and stupidity.

I saw the House Un-American Activities Committee as an effective organization to create confusion and fear. As an example of this, I offer the scenes of Archie Brown haranguing from the audience section in the hearing room with his own microphone (supplied by the committee?) on three successive days. Not only was he permitted to interrupt the business of the committee, he was permitted to incite disorder by his behavior. One is forced to question the sincerity of the committee and to ask if their cooperation with the disorderly elements was purposeful?

I challenge the Joost Sluis' and the other frightened people. I challenge them to believe in our young people, in all our people, in their innate good sense and their ability to reject totalitarianism. I challenge them, and urge them to believe in the strength of our Constitution and the Bill of Rights (even in its use by communists as a refuge).

There is no serious native communist threat. We are free people and will continue to remain free as long as we believe in ourselves and are not defeated by frightened, hate-ridden people into giving up any part of our freedoms. The end does not justify the means.

The movie also has mysterious antecedents (no credits were given). The film purported to show the communists brainwashing our students and causing disturbances. I saw communists, I saw disturbances, but I didn't see what they told me I saw. I saw confusion and chaos and stupidity.

I saw the House Un-American Activities Committee as an effective organization to create confusion and fear. As an example of this, I offer the scenes of Archie Brown haranguing from the audience section in the hearing room with his own microphone (supplied by the committee?) on three successive days. Not only was he permitted to interrupt the business of the committee, he was permitted to incite disorder by his behavior. One is forced to question the sincerity of the committee and to ask if their cooperation with the disorderly elements was purposeful?

I challenge the Joost Sluis' and the other frightened people. I challenge them to believe in our young people, in all our people, in their innate good sense and their ability to reject totalitarianism. I challenge them, and urge them to believe in the strength of our Constitution and the Bill of Rights (even in its use by communists as a refuge).

There is no serious native communist threat. We are free people and will continue to remain free as long as we believe in ourselves and are not defeated by frightened, hate-ridden people into giving up any part of our freedoms. The end does not justify the means.

OPERATION ABOLITION
 Dear Editor:
 Monday night, October 24, at a Parent's Club meeting at the Orinda Union School, we were treated to a 45-minute lecture on international communism and its dangers by a befuddled young man, Dr. Joost Sluis, who is director of the anti-communist crusade of Northern California.

This was followed by a movie purporting to show the danger of communism here at home. I've attended rigged meetings before, but this was the sickest piece of brainwashing I've seen.

Beginning with the Parent's Club newsletter of October 11, to the presence of armed policemen, presumably there to control the communist agitators who infiltrate parent's club meetings, and finally to the one-sided presentation of material with no chance for effective rebuttal.

To my horror, the main point of Dr. Sluis' speech as I understand it was that we are inevitably going to be taken over by the communists. He said the communists are stronger economically, they have better educational facilities, they are cleverer than we, if they can bomb us. This is part of what he told us about our weakness, the futility of negotiation, the inevitability of defeat.

I say he lies. This man and his ilk have little or no understanding of our country and its strengths. We are a rich, strong free people and this freedom has endured and will endure if we protect it.

He talks about the march of communism across the world. What country that was not totalitarian before its present communist government have we lost? Russia? China? Poland? Hungary? Cuba? Our strengths lie in our freedom to dissent and we must understand this. Our constitution has produced a stable society. We have no masses of unhappy, oppressed citizens, part of the necessary conditions for a communist revolution.

Our victory will come from our faith in the ability of our people of all ages, students included, to be exposed to all ideas, odd or otherwise, including communism, and still remain good Americans.

What is it that the Dr. Sluises are trying to do? Have they no faith in our democratic institutions? And why this thread of defeatism and fear? I'd like to know more about this mysterious Christian Anti-Communist Crusade. They strike me as a stupid dangerous crew. We can afford dissenters: WE CANNOT AFFORD TO SUPPRESS DISSENT. Let the communists and fascists speak to us, let us listen—and let us continue in our traditional democratic way.

Dr. Sluis was followed by a movie, "Operation Abolition," an edited form of newsreel film of the disturbances at the San Francisco hearings of the House Un-American Activities Committee. The movie also has mysterious antecedents (no credits were given). The film purported to show the communists brainwashing our students and causing disturbances. I saw communists, I saw disturbances, but I didn't see what they told me I saw. I saw confusion and chaos and stupidity.

what the announcement bulletin said, and I am in utter disbelief! I find it hard to believe that this bulletin, a piece of propaganda which puts some Communist propaganda to shame, was sent home in the hands of youngsters with curious, believing minds. This in itself is subversive! The Sun also quotes Mr. Buffalow as saying a panel discussion was not offered as an alternative. An alternative! Either a panel discussion or a speaker representing the other side (evidently the Communist or "dupe" side to some) would be imperative, not merely alternative, to say nothing of the fact that it should at least be offered!

At any rate, for a naturalized citizen, who does not even have an understanding of the technical aspects, much less a correct interpretation of our democratic principles, to spout such bilge in the name of God is sheer blasphemy. I most particularly resent this man from another land, raised under the rule of another government, telling me that my country is doomed!

OPERATION ABOLITION
 Dear Editor:
 Since when are parents clubs disseminators of propaganda? Perhaps you get tired of seeing travelogues at parent-teacher-type meetings and would like to hear pertinent issues argued or current controversies discussed, but do you like to be exposed to a party line indoctrination?

The film "Operation Abolition" and the evangelical speaker from the Anti-Communist Crusade (who, in case you weren't there, didn't talk about the film) was the only fare served at the meeting of the Orinda School Parents Club last week.

The presence of the six or more armed police who lined the school auditorium suggested that you had better accept the diet served you or at least not indicate that you would like a variation in the bill of fare.

I very well realize that this was not a session of parliament, but that it was a program presented by the Parents Club for the parents and the public. But in the face of the "opposition" which had respectfully suggested that in good democratic practice both sides of a controversial issue should be presented, I had supposed that there would be some time allotted to hearing individuals (not organized groups) speak their minds.

But it was "Operation Steam-roller" (no statements, please, and just one question to a customer) by the Parents Club which had decided to spoon feed the people of Orinda with a point that it assumed was shared universally. It didn't go over with some who found the initial inflammatory notice about this so-called "patriotic" program offensive.

If we are going to get into controversial subjects, let's have both sides of each issue exposed to the light of reason and let us not adopt totalitarian methods in promoting our ideas whatever axe we have to grind. And when people hand out reprints of editorials from respectable American newspapers expressing another point of view, let's not be so foolish as to call that un-American.

Moraga Minutes

Dr. Morganstern Is Named New School Board Member

By YVONNE MAUZEY

Today is like a day in the middle of July, but the summer sun brings forth a riot of color that is fall. No two leaves are colored exactly the same.

Dr. Morganstern is the new board member to fill out the term of Tom Peak. Dr. Morganstern is with Kaiser Hospital.

The 30-second house count is now in progress with the help of Rheem School mothers. The survey will include the enrollment at the Rheem school as of October 31. Houses and foundations are listed with an estimate of 1.21 school children per house. This survey will be taken again March 31 when the state enrollment forms go in again.

The Rheem School football team lost their game to Stone Valley (Alamo) last Thursday night, 26 to 7. It was a good game and hard won in spite of the score. All members of the Rheem team played in this game and came home in high spirits. We will have games with Orinda and Lafayette.

Ground breaking for the Camino Pablo School was held Saturday at 10 a.m. Those present were Mr. Barnes of Utah, the school board members, Mrs. Charles Wright (Parents' Club president) and a representative of Mr. Buckner's office. The contractor has already started work on grading. George Hill Jr., inspector for the building, has been approved by the state. He is from Danville.

The PTA and parents' groups were called together by Del Valle High School October 25. Marie Wright, president; Kit McIver, vice president, and Bob Trask, vice principal, represented Rheem School.

The theme was "Working Together Because We Care." Representatives of schools of the area met to discuss common problems, to try to work them out. The discussion groups were broken down to grade levels in different rooms. Then all groups came back to the main auditorium and the spokesman for each group reported what his group had discussed, and what conclusions they had come to.

Last Thursday night the board members and superintendents of Canyon, Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Moraga, Orinda and the high schools had a get together in the Pine Grove School home economics room.

Joe Sheaff had charcoal steaks the way you like them, baked potatoes, salad, apple pie and plenty of coffee for the group. Mrs. Sheaff was on the serving committee. This affair will be held at the Moraga School next year.

The Stanford group is making a survey study of our school district, checking population, proposed schools, assessed valuation, etc. This survey will benefit this district, Acalanes and Lafayette.

I hear the Parents' Club bridge group met at Ethel Blocks the 21st and had a ball.

A surprise baby shower was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Sweeney for Betty LeBlond Friday. There were 30 guests and Betty received many beautiful baby gifts.

Dolores Parker (late of Orchard Dell) came from her new home in Sacramento to be at the shower. She and her husband spent the night with the Sweeneys and returned home Saturday.

Natalie Caldwell fell off the swings at school Friday and broke both wrists. She will have casts on both arms. They were clean breaks and she expects to have the casts off in five weeks.

Mr. Trask informs me Rheem School has just completed the California tests and they will be taking the national norms S.R.A. achievements tests soon.

Covenant

The last service of the Lafayette Covenant Church was held Sunday night at 925 Moraga Road in Lafayette. The congregation of the church will meet this Sunday at the Hillside Covenant Church, now nearing completion at 2060 Magnolia Way, off Newell Avenue, Walnut Creek.

The Lafayette Covenant Church building which has been used by the church since the summer of 1948 has been purchased by the Acalanes Masonic Lodge.

Reverend William C. Mays, pastor of the church, assumed his pastoral duties early in March, 1958. Soon afterward preliminary plans were started for the construction of a building which would more adequately meet the needs of the growing congregation.

THE NEW church edifice was begun last May with Morris E. Bergesen, church chairman, as the builder. Paul Anderson of Oakland was the designer.

The church has been built on 7 1/2 acres of hillside property. For several weeks large earthmoving machines and bulldozers worked to contour the land for the two-story structure and to provide adequate parking space. Many men of the church worked evenings and Saturdays on the construction, in addition to men regularly employed by the contractor.

The new sanctuary has a seating capacity of about 350. There are also two large assembly rooms on the main floor in addition to many classrooms, church offices and the nursery. The lower floor has additional classrooms, a large modern kitchen and a dining or recreational hall.

Methodist

The Lafayette Community Methodist Church, 955 Moraga Road, holds two Sunday morning worship services, 9:30 and 11 o'clock. Nursery care is provided during both services.

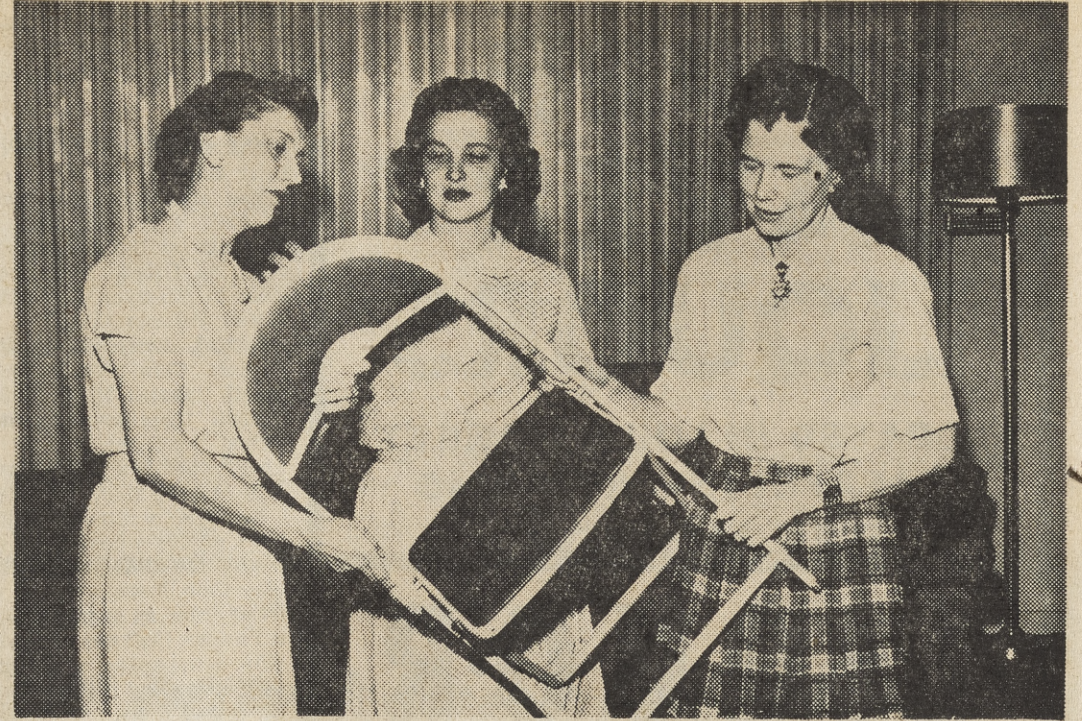

Reverend George E. Berry will preach on the topic "Sight and Insight" Sunday morning. Church school classes for all the family are held.

Sunday at 7 p.m. the Methodist Youth Fellowship has its regular meeting. All high-school youth are invited.

The board of trustees will meet at 7 p.m. Monday; the official board at 8 p.m.

Thursday at 12:30 p.m. the La Paz Circle of the Woman's Society of Christian Service will meet.

Saturday the board of trustees will sponsor a church work day in which members and friends of the church are invited to partici-

MESDAMES PAUL W. WARD, Albert S. Bynum and John W. Switack, of the Orinda-Moraga Methodist Church, inspect a folding chair of the type they will purchase with proceeds from a coffee and program November 14. This is the church's first and only fund-raising event this year.

(no nursery); and Thursday at 10 a.m., 624 Burton Drive, Lafayette (nursery next door at 3222 Apache Court).

The Spiritual Growth class, under Mr. Thomas, will meet Thursday at 8 p.m.; and Mrs. Mitchell's group on Monday at 8 p.m.

Baptist

"Christ's Motive for Giving" will be the sermon topic of the 11 a.m. worship service of the Reverend Alan D. Southwell at the Moraga Hills Community Baptist Church, now meeting in their new building three-fourths of a mile northeast of Rheem Center on Moraga Road.

Church school classes for all ages begin at 9:45 a.m. A nursery is provided during church school and worship. During the worship service a junior church for kindergarten and first and second grades is provided.

JUNIOR high youth fellowship meets for a time of recreation and inspiration at 6:45 p.m. in the new building under the leadership of George Nye, our youth director.

Women's Bible study meets in the lounge at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday morning. A nursery is provided. Ruth Mallory is the discussion leader for this group.

Choir rehearsal this Thursday evening at 7:45 p.m. in the new building.

THE NEW organized junior choir meets on Friday at 4 p.m. under the leadership of Jackie Fridell. All third, fourth, fifth and sixth graders are welcome.

Tomorrow will find everyone coming to finish painting our new building. With the help of Christian folk from the First Baptist Church of Oakland we anticipate completing our part of the building.

This church is affiliated with the American Baptist Convention.

Propositions Confusing? Here Is Rundown...

It is confusing enough, when one has to make up his mind as to the proper candidates in a national election. But to add the complexity of 15 propositions is enough to make a strong man weep.

You will find printed on this page a tabulation of recommendations by various organizations relating to the propositions.

To Water or not To Water ... ?

PROP. 1: Authorized the sale of $1,750,000,000 of general obligation bonds for the systematic development of the water resources of the state including as key features the Feather River Dam for flood control in the north and a giant aqueduct for transporting water from the Delta of the Sacramento and San Joaquin Rivers into areas of deficit in the south.

FOR: This bond issue offers the only presently feasible way of satisfying the increasing demand for water in central and southern California and at the same time of insuring the flood control needed in the north. It is feasible alike from the standpoints of engineering and finance and contains adequate safeguards for both farmer and city-dweller, both north and south. The plan contemplates substantial borrowing but also presupposes maximum reliance on pay-as-you-go financing.

AGAINST: There is no real necessity yet for a water program of this magnitude particularly in view of the fact that several good alternatives have yet to be properly explored. A great deal of water now going to waste can be reclaimed and re-used; research on the desalinization of sea water could be greatly expanded.

The economic feasibility of the plan has not been completely verified nor is its legal validity assured. The safeguards afforded to various regional interest are far from perfect.

Shall We Change Our Senate Choice?

PROP. 15: Senate reapportionment. Established and apportions 40 senatorial districts. Provides for election of all senators in 1962, one-half to be elected every two years thereafter. Requires legislature in 1961 to fix boundaries of districts in counties having two or more senators according to population, area and economic affinity, and authorizes legislature to refix them following each decennial federal census. PERMITS legislature to reapportion districts by reference to same criteria following the 1980 census and each decennial census thereafter. Limits any one county to a maximum of 7 senators and apportions 20 districts to northern counties and 20 to southern counties.

PROP. 2: Increases the terms of assemblymen from two to four years. FOR: Elections every two years are too costly, and an assemblyman now barely has time to get his feet on the ground before

Letters to The Editor

BIGOTRY

Dear Editor:

I thought you might like to see the enclosed Sunday Church Bulletin given out October 9 to all members of a Pleasant Hill church.

I don't know what your reaction will be, but I was shocked. More than that, I felt a sense of loss, sadness that this is happening in America.

ELECTION TIME, campaigning—is no excuse to create feelings of hate, prejudice between Americans whether they are of the Catholic, Jewish or Protestant faith.

This is fertile ground for Communism to seed itself and grow . . . in American soil.

I AM CATHOLIC. Many of my neighbors and friends are Protestant, attend this same church. Their reaction is as profound as my own. They don't want to be told how to vote and the fact that their pastor is doing so while in the same breath talking about American freedoms, separation of church and state—offends their sense of right and wrong.

The Catholic is sickened by the rash of pamphlets, distorted, lying literature coming through the mail these crucial days before election time, using any method to prevent the Democratic candidate for President (an American who happens to belong to the Catholic faith) from winning.

Many Catholics are intending to vote for Nixon, just as many Protestants are all for Kennedy. MRS. WINIFRED WOODS

DENTAL

Dear Editor:

On behalf of the Larkey School and the Contra Costa County Health Department, I wish to thank you for the picture of the Dental Health Education program, in action, which appeared in the September 30 issue.

By starting at an early age, with dental health education, many of the dental ills of adults can be forestalled.

Inspection of the teeth of students in school, and counseling with each student, is a means of promoting good dental health. MRS. ELIZABETH BARNEY

ARCHITECTS

Dear Editor:

Your recent editorial, "A Close Look at School Boards and Architects," indicated to this writer that rather than a close look, a very distant and hazy look was taken at this subject.

Granted that the architect is an ideal scapegoat for school construction economy drives, what with his not being closely affiliated with strong political, business or labor groups; nevertheless, it would be hoped that a more objective and rational view might have been taken rather than the one indicated.

Being an architect engaged in designing school projects, and having three children attending Lafayette schools, for which I pay my share of taxes, I feel I have an adequate background for offering some clarification to your comments.

Your main point appears to be the probability of the vast savings made available by eliminating or circumventing the most important service the architect has to offer, imaginative design and planning.

Granted, fees can be reduced and savings brought about by re-using plans, and in occasional cases this is possible, but it is surely not the panacea to solve the problem of increasing costs which you evidently feel it to be.

Even in cases of nearly identical sites, rarely the case in this area, a great amount of the architect's services must be duplicated due to differences in topography, orientation and many other items, and, of course, all of the supervision work must be carried on individually for every school, whether it has been redesigned from existing plans or not.

Whether the architectural fee is 3.5, 4 or 4.3 per cent of the construction cost is less important than whether the district is receiving the best possible job for their money. This will rarely be the case if they have attempted to squeeze the fee down to the point where the architect and his structural and mechanical engineering consultants (who, incidentally, take about 40 per cent of the total fee) cannot devote the proper amount of time to the project.

In our midst we have an outstanding example of the results which can be brought about by progressive, original thinking—Acalanes High School, now over 20 years old, a plant which at the time of its initial construction became world renowned and started a complete new trend in school design. Here was a truly creative concept, a school plant I feel sure everyone connected with is proud of, and obviously not one produced by the rehaphing of old plans.

There is no question that there exist good, bad and indifferent architects as there do doctors, teachers and builders, but surely no one is short-sighted enough to suggest that good teachers can be obtained by cutting their salary scale or solid foundations assured by saving on cement. The architect is the one person with the training and capabilities to create new advances in school design and construction; nothing can be saved in the long run by limiting his horizons.

Under The Sun Here's Some Predictions And Propositions . . .

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

Let's talk about next Tuesday's election.

Whose going to be president — Dick or John?

Don't know but the odds seem to be on Kennedy at the moment. In Contra Costa county, a democrat stronghold, Kennedy is a cinch; in sunny CENTRAL Contra Costa, our republican communities will give Nixon a majority.

Who will be our next representative in Congress — Baldwin or Page?

How many will switch?

Watch this race. Veteran Congressman John Baldwin, republican, may very well lose his job. Several weeks ago I reported that Challenger Douglas Page, democrat, had about 10,000 more votes than John did in the primary. Of course, we no longer have cross-filing, so democrats could only vote for democrats. Ditto republicans. This was purely a test within each party.

The big question is: Will 10,000 democrats, who voted for Doug in the primary, switch their votes to GOP Baldwin next Tuesday?

It's hard to foresee a 10,000 switch in votes. The odds are very much in Page's favor.

And in this corner . . .

Who will be our next assemblyman — Incumbent Jerome Waldie or George Krueger?

Republican Krueger is running a strong race in this district which has only a relatively small democrat majority (compared to the entire county). Democrat Waldie, however, is popular, and most observers, including this writer, pick him as the winner.

Who will be our next state senator — Incumbent George Miller Jr. or King Parker?

The republican asked Parker to run, so that Democrat Miller would not walk in unchallenged. And this is a good thing. Uncontested elections are unhealthy. Parker has conducted a strong campaign, but Miller is a cinch to walk in.

And now the propositions . . .

Have you studied those darn propositions?

Well, frankly, there aren't as tough as in some previous elections but they are still work. And they're mighty important, too. On this page you'll find recommendations from other groups. In the editorial column, you'll find a brief review, plus a pro and con on each, as well as The Sun's endorsements.

After reading this material, take an hour and study the material on the propositions that you received with your sample ballot. The pros and cons should give you solid reasons for voting yes or no.

Let me comment on several propositions in which The Sun differs from some of the other groups announcing recommendations.

Prop. 2 and 5

Proposition 2 would lengthen the present two-year term of our assemblyman to four years. The opponents main argument is that "It would reduce the responsiveness of assemblymen to the views of their constituents."

I think this is true. However, we would get better legislators and better legislation if these poor assemblymen didn't have to spend all their time campaigning. Here are some of the pros, as prepared by the Commonwealth Club:

"It will reduce the pressure of constant campaigning which many assemblymen claim wears out their enthusiasm for the job. Good men are interested in the job inversely to the proportion of time spent in campaigning. Longer terms reduce the members' vulnerability to transitory pressures from voting blocs."

(I just looked up "transitory" — it means "not enduring, fleeting, temporary. I guess I should have known this.)

Incidentally, Commonwealth Club members voted against Prop. 2 — 856 to 599. I don't want my quote from their arguments to imply their endorsement.

You'll note that we also favor Proposition 5, to increase the compensation for our state legislators from $500 to $750 per month. If we want good men, we should pay for them. There have been excesses and abuses in legislators pay but some were cleared up in recent sessions. Our legislators devote most of the time to the job and should be compensated.

Interest as well as principal

The Sun differs from most other sources on Proposition 14. This is a rather technical measure and I'm not certain I understand all the ramifications. The State Constitution now permits cities, counties and grade separation districts to use certain motor vehicle revenues to pay the principal on bonds to finance separation projects — but they cannot use the money to pay the interest on these projects.

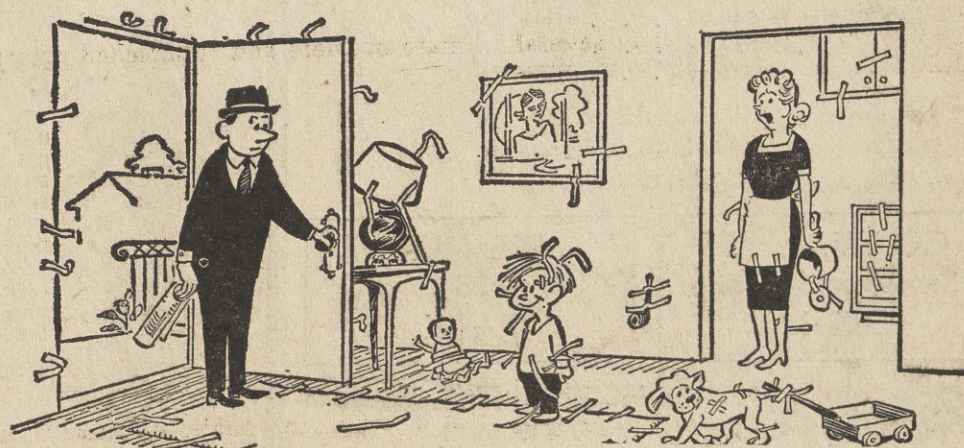

Prop. 14 would permit them to do the latter. Frankly, I can't understand why they shouldn't be permitted to use these revenues for interest as well as principal. The Sun says "yes."

You've been deluged with reasons to vote no on Prop. 1 (state water bonds) and no on Prop. 15 (senate reapportionment). We also urge a hefty no vote.

Are your taxes too high? Do you approve of the incumbents? Which party and/or men will do a better job for our nation, state and county?

Next Tuesday is your chance to decide who will represent you? Let's vote!

Reception, Consecration Service Honors Couple

Pastor and Mrs. A. E. Syverud, 30 Broadview Terrace, Orinda, California, were recently honored on their silver wedding anniversary by a host of friends. The event took place at Central Lutheran Church, 215 Ridgeway, Oakland, where the Syveruds are members.

Reverend Walter Gravrock, pastor of the church, officiated at a marriage consecration service for the couple. Mrs. Walter Gravrock of Oakland and Miss Donna Jean Petersen of San Francisco each sang a solo that had been sung at the Syveruds' wedding 25 years ago. The songs were "All Joy Be Thine" and "O Perfect Love." Mrs. M. C. Larsen played organ music before the service.

Miss Barbara Jean Syverud, the couple's 17-year-old daughter, spoke in behalf of her brother and herself, giving the highlights of her parents' years of marriage. Stephen, a son, is working in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and was unable to be present.

The staff personnel and members of the Board of Lutheran Welfare of Northern California, of which Pastor Syverud is the executive director, brought words of greeting and well-wishes.

Mrs. Carroll Kinseth, 100 La Espiral, Orinda, who was Mrs. Syverud's college roommate for three years and one of her bridesmaids, spoke and introduced family relatives.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall following the service and program. Barbara Jean wore her mother's wedding dress as she served punch to the guests. Pouring coffee during the serving were Mrs. Syverud's mother, Mrs. Emily Cooper, and her two sisters, Mrs. Pearl Chell and Mrs. Oscar Davidson, all of Yuba City.

Another sister, Mrs. A. J. McCabe of Yuba City, played piano background music during the reception. Mrs. McCabe was the matron of honor at the Syverud wedding.

At the reception, gifts and a purse of money were presented to the Syveruds by Carroll Kinseth. Pastor and Mrs. Syverud responded with words of thanks to the guests present.

The flower arrangements and beautiful table appointments were credited to Mrs. Eleanor Naismith.

Kathleen Young Becomes Bride In Reno Rites

A homecoming from army duties in Germany turned into wedding bells for two Orinda families when Kathleen Laurel Young became Mrs. Gregory Goodwin Husar in a Unitarian ceremony in Reno, October 18.

The bride, who attended College of Pacific in Stockton, was given in marriage by her father, Capt. Lawrence A. Young. The benedict's father served as his son's best man at the nuptials attended by both Orinda families. Anne Husar, sister of the groom, attended the bride.

The young couple, who have known each other since their early teen years, announced their engagement in Rome last Easter when Kathy was on tour with a student educational group. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence A. Young of Miner Road, Orinda.

The groom, currently training with the United States army, arrived home from Germany in transit to Fort Louis, Washington, where, following a honeymoon in Laguna Beach, the couple will make their home till his training is completed in April.

Both young people are graduates of Acalanes High.

Gay Parties Given In Orinda

Parties in two Orinda homes preceded attendance at the festive Voting Gala to select a Queen of Children's Hospital of the East Bay held recently at the Hotel Claremont.

Members of Mayten Branch, supporting the candidacy of Orinda's Mrs. Robert Field, were entertained at home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Johanson of Orinda at a dinner party gathering, before going off to the Claremont to cast a final round of votes for their candidate.

Among the group were Mesdames and Messrs. David L. Barton, John H. Everett, Thomas C. Kallam, Ross Mainwaring, Myron Omsunson, Robert Stewart, Sam Stovall, William Wignall, Anthony Yriberri, all of Orinda, and Herbert Gonsan and Richard E. Melrose of Lafayette.

The Rudolph Grahs REALLY Have a Family!

What Could Be More Fun Than Six Active Children!

By JEAN JERNIGAN

People who live in Orinda usually believe there is no other place on earth quite so fine. One of the reasons Orinda residents so loved their community, is the kind of people who have chosen Orinda for home.

People like Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Grah of 78 Sleepy Hollow Lane and their six children, who know how to share their family happiness through service for others.

Both Mary and Rudolph Grah are native Californians, although Mrs. Grah said, "That's really not quite true, because I came to California when I was two."

THE GRAHS met when both were students at a junior college in Southern California, and were married in 1941. She is a nurse who received her degree in Public Health from the University of California at Berkeley. She did some hospital nursing "just for fun" but according to Mary Grah, her most interesting and rewarding career has been and still is, her "job" as wife and mother.

Rudolph Grah is a Professor of Forestry at the University of California. He is a graduate of Oregon State, earned his Master's Degree at the University of California and his Doctorate at the University of Michigan.

Like Mrs. Grah, he finds his family and community life an enrichment of his professional work. Serving on the board of the Sleepy Hollow Pool, he was chairman of the landscape committee and did much to beautify the area.

A MEMBER of the civic affairs committee of the Orinda Association, Grah also shares his abilities with the Boy Scouts, helping them with their merit badges in forestry.

As co-chairman of the Life Science Group for the Science Seminar at Miramonte High School, Grah has spent many hours working with young people in this field. Sundays find him busy at the Orinda Community Church where he teaches a class of sixth grade boys.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Grah take an active part in church affairs, as well as civic affairs.

"I'M REALLY quite ordinary," said Mrs. Grah, when asked about her activities. To make her statement accurate, we must add an "extra" to the word ordinary.

In addition to her many tasks as mother of six children, Mrs. Grah has managed to help with scouts, be a room mother, served as membership chairman for the Orinda Schools Mothers' Clubs, been president of the Sleepy Hollow School Parents' Club.

Worked on all the drives, served with the committee for UNICEF, was a member of the steering committee for work on the Teen Age Code at Miramonte, and is program chairman of the afternoon group of the Miramonte Parents Club, with the theme this year of "Balanced Living, Body, Mind and Spirit." She also sings in the choir at the Orinda Community Church and is a member of the music committee.

The Grahs like to sail and have an El Torro they keep at Lake Merritt. Gardening and family fun, with swimming high on the list, occupy most of their fun time. She knows how to weave, creating her own designs and hopes sometime to have sufficient leisure to return to this hobby. They all enjoy reading and frequently read aloud to each other.

NANCY GRAH, 18, is a freshman at the University of California at Santa Barbara. "Nancy is at college on a State Science Scholarship," her mother said. "She has always been interested in science, and when she was in high school she had a science job with the program at Cal, working in poultry husbandry."

Nancy also had the unique experience of living two miles high at La Paz, Bolivia, when her father was working with the rubber program there. She was too young at the time to remember much about it, but her sister, Emmy, 15, and a sophomore at Miramonte, was born in La Paz.

"EMMY has the unique distinction of having dual citizenship," remarked Mrs. Grah. "She is automatically a citizen of Bolivia and can own property there, and of course is also a citizen of the United States. Emmy is active in youth groups, sings in the choir at church and is interested in nursing and social work," her mother concluded.

KATHY, the Grah's 13 year old daughter, is a student at Pine Grove School in the eighth grade. "Kathy spent the summer on a cattle ranch in Oregon," her mother recalled, "and she broke her leg. Unfortunately it was not in any glamorous fashion, such as a toss from a bucking bronco. She merely fell when running." "Kathy loves animals, we've had a variety of pets, including snakes, hamsters, lemmings, guinea pigs, fish and dogs. She has worked with Dr. C. E. Pearson here in Orinda, on a study of the mouse population.

She assists him in putting clips on their ears. It is part of a study on population dynamics, and I guess will determine what makes a successful mouse," Mrs. Grah laughingly concluded.

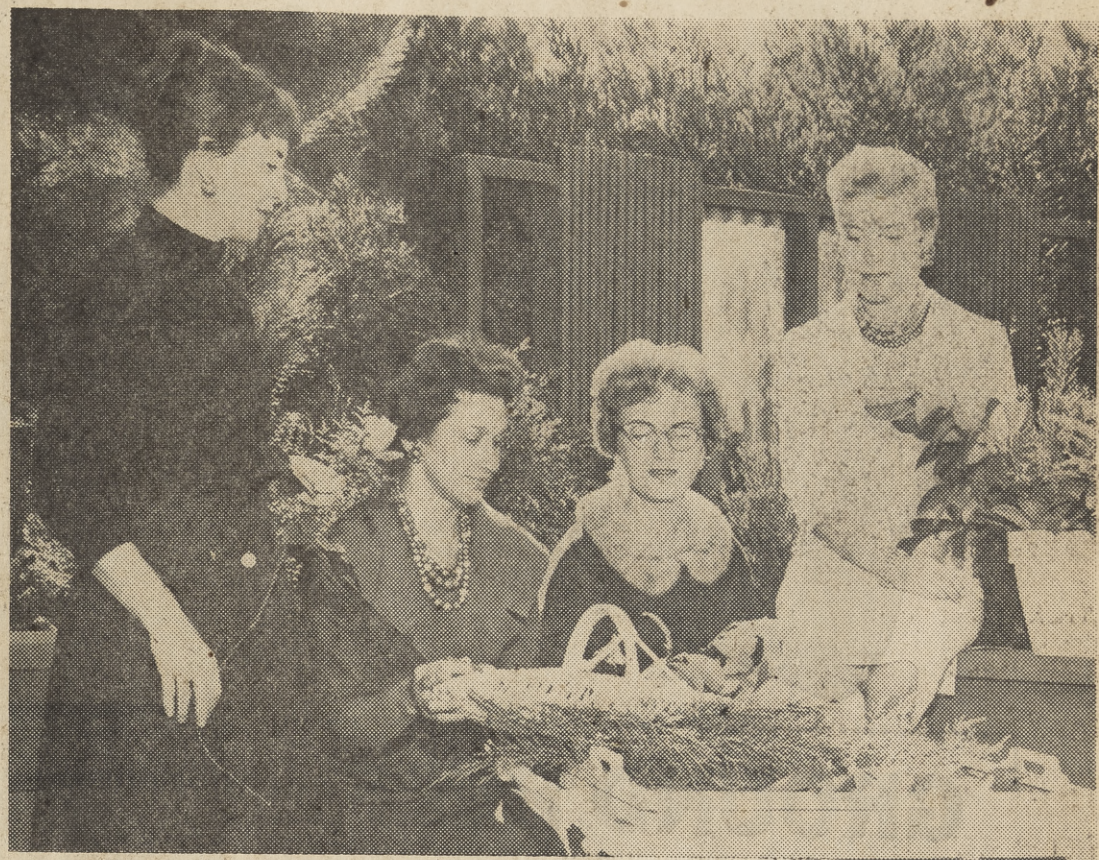

At the present time, Kathy thinks she would like to become a veterinarian.

BUDDY, 11, a sixth grade student at Pine Grove School, is president of his class. An enterprising youngster, his mother said he earned sufficient money cutting neighborhood lawns to buy himself a go-cart. Johnny, who is six and in the first grade at Pine Grove, also has a go-cart that his Dad made for him, using an old lawnmower motor.

"JOHNNY has found that he likes school after all," his mother said, "and he's busy with his friends most afternoons." Speaking of Davey, the Grah's 16 month old son, Mrs. Grah said, "He is the delight of our family. He admires everything we do, and likes to watch the others as they work and play."

Arabian Nights Is Theme For Golden Fleece Event

Plans are being made to entertain the Femineers, their husbands, and their guests when they rendezvous at the Jack Tar Hotel November 12 for their annual Golden Fleece dinner dance.

The theme will be "Arabian Nights" and there will be colorful Arabian dancers gracing the slave market, flying carpets, gorgeous gowns and sacks of gold, plus Ali Baba, who will personally keep an eye on his wealth stacked in the Thieves' Den.

Mystery will be the password to the International Room at the Jack Tar when the guests convene at 7 p.m. for cocktails and fortune telling for the men.

The purpose of this event is to support the Femineers' scholarship fund which has helped many engineering students with their education. Arts Alliance Gives Benefit Dance Party

"It's Witchcraft" was the theme of a festive evening of dancing sponsored by the Diablo Pageant of Arts Alliance on Saturday. The Alamo Women's Club, decorated with black cats and witches' hats, cornstalks, balloons and streamers, formed an eerie setting for this gala affair.

Tables grouped around the dance floor were centered with candle-lit pumpkins. The witchcraft theme was featured in a large, spooky mural which faced guests as they arrived and was also visible to the dancers.

Mesdames Kenneth Crain, Michael Jasper, Thor Isaacson and Lynn Anderson did the decorating.

A large, gay crowd danced from 9 p.m. until 2 a.m. to the lively strains of the Bay City Four orchestra. Refreshments in the form of dips and nibbles were served throughout the evening. Mrs. Winfield Young was in charge of these arrangements.

Mrs. Leland Johnstone was chairman of the entire event and was assisted by Mrs. Fred LeClair. Mrs. Thomas Graves was in charge of tickets.

Proceeds from this affair will be used to further the artistic endeavors of the Diablo Pageant of Arts.

Diablo Valley's Homecoming Game Is Tomorrow Night

Acalanes Needs Rally to Defeat Alhambra 20-13

The Acalanes Dons looked like anything but pennant contenders Friday night when they trailed, 13-0, at the half, and then came back with a slam bang finish to cop the nod, 20-13.

The Don grid machine sputtered and fumed in the first half as the Alhambra Bulldogs played a sharp, alert game to take the game away from the lethargic Dons.

THE MARTINEZ eleven put a big seven points on the score-board early in the first quarter when Wayne Brasher grabbed up an Acalanes fumble on the Dons' 40 and raced untouched into the end zone.

Center Van Boschetti turned the upside down man duties to a substitute and calmly split the up-rights with a place kick that left the Martinez rooters cheering and the Acalanes rooters gasping.

The Bulldogs smelled an upset and outplayed Acalanes the rest of the half and in the process scored another six points. Dave Sheldon set the stage for Alhambra when he recovered Stew Fox's fumble on the Acalanes 35-yard line. Three plays brought the pigskin to the five and south-paw quarterback Bill Hitt hit Dennis Watson in the end zone for the payoff.

THIS TIME Boschetti's kick was wide of its mark.

The Dons' machine evidently got a working over at the half, as Coach Bob Stevens evidently lubed them up and put in a new set of sparkplugs.

Late in the third quarter the Dons drove deep into Alhambra territory, only to be driven back from the five to the 15 in three plays. On fourth down, quarterback Tom Strain rolled out on an option play to the right and skirted end to go the distance, and it was 13-7 as Strain made good on the conversion.

Midway in the fourth quarter the Dons' center, Jeff Picard, blocked a punt which Doug Nichols scooped up and carried 24 yards to score.

Alhambra's bid for a comeback stalled when they fumbled and the Dons recovered in the closing minutes.

TONY LaROSA and Fox took the ball down field on up-the-middle rushes and Strain once again scored on a rollout that paid off with the game's final six points as he covered 13 yards on the run.

The win kept the Dons undefeated in league play and the big showdown comes tonight at Piedmont when the Dons meet the also undefeated in league play Piedmont Highlanders.

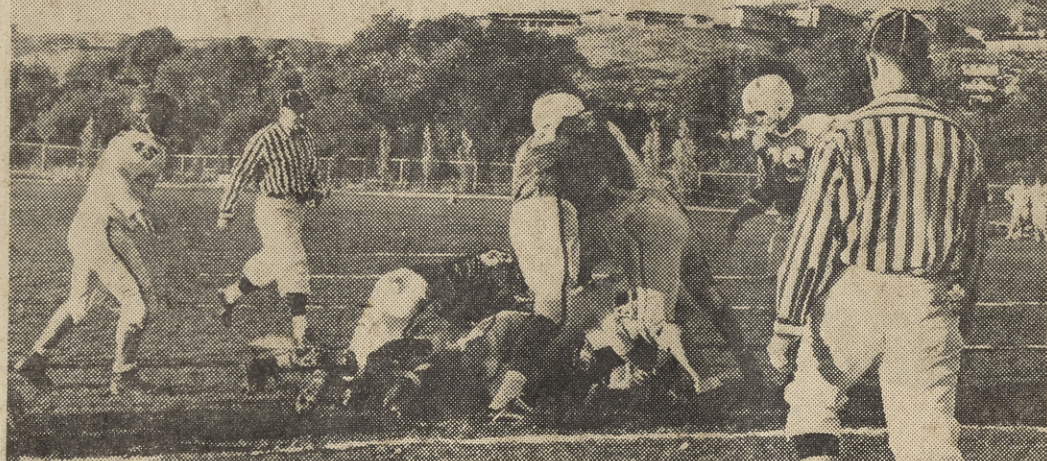

The Acalanes eleven, rolling up most of their yardage in the second half, wound up with 136 yards to 63 yards rushing, while Alhambra held the edge in the air, 63-36.

MIRAMONTE'S GRIDDERS (in dark jerseys here) nearly pulled a whopping big upset last week as they led the Las Lomas Knights through most of the game, only to have the Walnut Creek eleven knot the score in the final quarter for a 19-19 tie. This photo illustrates some of the heavy body contact which characterized the game played in Orinda.

Frosh Play May Wind Up in Tie

The Acalanes and Las Lomas freshmen football teams played a 12-12 tie at Acalanes on Thursday afternoon, October 27, and they could well end up that way as each has two games to go and neither club has been defeated to date.

Las Lomas holds a 6-0 win over Piedmont, dropped San Ramon, 6-0, punted Alhambra, 20-0, and outlasted Piedmont, 19-0, before tying the Dons, 12-12.

ACALANES edged Miramonte, 6-0, took San Ramon, 19-16, waxed Alhambra, 27-0, and tied Las Lomas, 12-12.

In other games, San Ramon defeated Alhambra, 6-0; Del Valle tied with Piedmont, 12-12, and Alhambra eked out a 6-0 win over Del Valle.

Acalanes winds up the season at Piedmont in a rained-out makeup on November 14.

GAMES YESTERDAY found Alhambra at Miramonte, Las Lomas at Del Valle and Piedmont at San Ramon, with Acalanes drawing the bye.

The final round takes place November 10 with Las Lomas at Miramonte, Piedmont at Alhambra and Acalanes at Del Valle, and San Ramon getting the bye.

Piedmont Makes It Look Easy in Defeating Wolves
The Piedmont Highlanders really took the high road Friday night as they rolled over, under and around the hapless San Ramon Wolves for a 32-7 win.

Tuning up for their big one with Acalanes tonight, the Clan, paced by their all-league halfback Bobby Jones, scored 19 points in the opening quarter and 13 in the third while holding San Ramon to seven points in the second period.

Mats Almost Beat Knights But Settle for 19-19 Tie

The Miramonte Matadors have never won a varsity football game from the Las Lomas Knights, but they will never come closer and not do it than they did in Friday afternoon's Foothill League game, which wound up in a 19-19 draw.

The Mats led all the way, only to have the Knights snatch victory out of reach with less than two minutes to go.

THE GAME, played at the Orinda field, found the Mats scoring early in the opening quarter as they drove 72 yards in seven plays from where Randy Corsi took it in going over tackle from the eight, and Jack Putnam made it 7-0 with a placement kick.

The Knights found the going rough on the ground, and took to the air to score as quarterback Mike Breuleux hit Harold Stephenson with a pass-run scoring play good for 55 yards, and it was 7-7 as Breuleux made good on the PAT.

The Mats took the lead again as quarterback Bill Hilger set his sights and hit end Jack Gilbert in the end zone after a drive had brought the pigskin to the Knights' six on a fourth and goal-to-go situation.

THIS TIME the PAT try was a blocked kick with Stephenson getting his hands on the ball, and it was 13-7, which was the way it wound up at the half.

In the third period, the Mats appeared to ice the contest as they scored again after intercepting a pair and putting on a better than 70-yard drive of their own, with halfback Bob Boyle taking it over from a foot out.

This time the try for point was missed again, as it was blocked on an attempted placement.

The Knights were down, 19-7, but as it turned out they were still very much alive.

A DRIVE abetted by a 25-yard pass from Stephenson to end Darrell Dunbar after a Miramonte fumble on the kickoff put the ball on the one yard line, from where Stephenson scored to make it 19-13.

The Knights came back to score their final and tying touchdown with less than a minute and a half on the clock as Stephenson hit Dunbar with a long pass to Dunbar, who was deep behind the defense, and he raced untouched into the end zone to knot the count, 19-19.

Mike Breuleux's try for point sailed wide to the right.

Miramonte held the edge statistically with a total of 320 yards to 255. It was 145-84 rushing, 10 first downs to 8, and 175 yards to 171 passing.

Mats, Knights Fight for JV Title Wednesday

The Foothill Junior Varsity Football League play looks as if it could go down to the wire when Miramonte plays at Las Lomas in the finale Wednesday.

Las Lomas lost, 13-12, to San Ramon in their second game after tripping Piedmont, 14-6, in the opener.

SINCE THEN the Knights rolled over Alhambra, 46-0, and last time out on Thursday, October 27, tripped Acalanes, 21-7.

Miramonte trimmed Acalanes, 14-0, nailed Del Valle, 18-12, tied with Piedmont, 13-13, and last week edged San Ramon, 7-0.

Acalanes was rained out with Piedmont and will play it at the end of the season on Monday, November 14.

THEY HIT A HIGH as they knocked over Alhambra, 39-0.

Del Valle has wins over Piedmont, 15-0, and San Ramon, 14-0, while last week they had a work-out as they set back Alhambra, 47-0.

Acalanes was to draw a bye yesterday, while Miramonte was scheduled to play at Alhambra, Del Valle at Las Lomas and San Ramon at Piedmont.

The season winds up Wednesday with Miramonte at Las Lomas, Alhambra at Piedmont and Del Valle at Acalanes, with San Ramon drawing the bye.

The frosh schedule follows the Jayvee with home and home reverses. All games are set for 3:30 p.m. kickoffs.

Clan, Dons Tied For Top Standing In Foothill Play

The Foothill League winds up next week with the final round of play coming on Thursday due to the fact that next Friday is a school holiday.

The standings to date find Acalanes and Piedmont tied for the top standing and the issue very likely to be decided tonight when the two clubs crash at Piedmont.

Standings to date:

	W	L	T	PS	PA
Piedmont	3	0	0	65	20
Acalanes	3	0	0	65	13
Las Lomas	1	1	1	40	52
Alhambra	1	2	0	42	34
Miramonte	0	2	1	25	38

Vikings Try to Recover From Lopsided 48-0 Loss

The Diablo Valley College Vikings will host Vallejo Junior College's Redskins in their homecoming game on the Pleasant Hill gridiron tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

Coach Ted Gebhart's Falcons will enter the contest with a 4-1 won-loss record, while DVC is 1-3. Vallejo lost to Monterey Peninsula College, 59-14, over the last weekend, while San Jose City College downed the Viks, 48-0.

THE FALCONS EMPLOY a straight T formation. They have a fine quarterback in Mike Campas, who has been very successful this season with his passes to ends Martin Wyatt and Don Thompson.

Although Campas is a good passer, the Vallejo team is basically a running team. Speedsters Bob Campo, Bob Beverly and Bryan Biggs are the Falcons' main break-away threats.

Coach Gebhart says he expects his team's fine defense to give DVC lots of trouble.

Diablo Valley will employ its regular split end and unbalanced line "T" formation, according to Sam DeVito, Viking head coach.

KEY INJURIES have hurt the Vikings in all of their conference games this year. It now looks as if they will be plagued by the same trouble in Saturday night's game, as many of the starters and top reserves are hampered by bad knees and ankles.

The Viks, who were recipients of a lopsided 48-0 defeat last Saturday night on their home field, faced a San Jose squad which was really up for the game.

San Jose racked up 13 points in each of the first two quarters to lead, 26-0, at half time. After the intermission they pickup up right where they had left off, scoring another 14 points in the third period. They added eight more points in the final frame.

Quarterback Bob Hildago led the San Jose attack for the first three quarters, as he threw scoring aerials of 7 and 17 yards to Ray Hillard and Rick Gordon.

Diablo Stays on Top of Contra Costa Loop Play

The Mt. Diablo Red Devils continued to pace the Contra Costa League as they plucked the Clayton Valley Eagles of some of their tail feathers with an impressive 25-6 win that found the Eagles out-classed except for the opening quarter when they led, 6-0.

In other games the Pleasant Hill Rams stayed in contention with a 19-6 victory over Antioch, while Pacifica upset the dope bucket with an 18-12 win over Pittsburg.

Standings to date as follows:

	W	L	PS	PA
Mt. Diablo	3	0	77	38
Clayton Valley	2	1	39	25
Pleasant Hill	2	1	39	38
Antioch	1	2	38	52
Pacifica	1	2	30	45
Pittsburg	0	3	25	50

Basketball, Wrestling Will Start Next Week

By ERWIN MATTSO

The prep football season winds up next week and basketball, along with wrestling, takes over.

Official practice started Tuesday for the two new activities and while signups were on the large size, running from 60 to 100 per team, the squad sizes will narrow down in a hurry as coaches put on heavy drills both to condition and to get a good look at their squads prior to the first "cuts."

Cutting a squad is a difficult and unpleasant aspect of coaching but still a necessity to get down to a workable unit.

Look for a roundup on basketball and wrestling prospects in next week's issue of The Sun.

Speaking of basketball, look for Miramonte to be a real contender and one of the big reasons is six-foot six-inch Jack Gilbert. He is playing varsity end and defensive safety on the grid team and has been a standout.

Football has helped him as far as basketball goes, in that he will be difficult to handle under the basket. He is a good bet to be one of, if not the area's best hoop player, and in addition could wind up on the Foothill all-league grid team.

I see where Bill Rigney is as yet unemployed, but chances are he will land a job any day now. A good guess is as manager of the Detroit Tigers.

Rigney, a popular Walnut Creek resident, is rated as a fine and capable manager who many feel was given anything but a fair shake with the Giants when he was let go in mid-season while just a few games out of first place.

Rigney, a fine player in his own right, was a young star during the war while playing for the pre-flight team at St. Mary's. That, coupled with the fact he was raised and played in Oakland along with his Walnut Creek residence, gives him many local acquaintances, and to know Bill Rigney is to like him. Here's hoping he lands a top spot.

Track coaches are shook up by the fact that the state organization is debating the question of continuing the meet on the state level. Many feel the state is becoming so large that such an affair is cumbersome, and that perhaps there should be a northern meet and a southern meet and let it go at that.

Personally, I would like to see state-wide competition on a wider basis. To date track has had an exclusive. Why not expand for such activities as tennis and golf and have a north and south section meet in wrestling, basketball and baseball.

It's a pipe dream, but don't look for it to happen. We are definitely on a stage of de-emphasis and besides, everyone is going to become a scientist or President so why worry?

Now the Professor Tries To Prove He's Peerless

It's another week of choice picks by the peerless Soss Opple, who gives you a bonus choice. Last week you will notice that he name might close on a good number of scores.

The crystal ball, like the weather, has been cool and clear, so here goes:

In Foothill League play, the Dons meet the Piedmont Highlanders in what could be the championship game as both are undefeated and have one game to go after this week's play. The Dons have been inconsistent but have been winning.

Piedmont has been a high scoring club and appears to be "hungry," at least more so than the Dons. Tab them to win, 20-7.

Las Lomas plays and defeats a San Ramon eleven that is waiting for the season's end. San Ramon hasn't won yet and they won't tonight, as they get waxed, 20-0.

Alhambra tangles with Miramonte and its an upset. Alhambra 13, Miramonte 7.

Pleasant Hill hosts Pittsburg. Injuries have plagued the Rams and their ranks are on the thin side. It's the Rams in a 14-13 win over a Pitt eleven that's going anywhere but up.

Clayton Valley plays at Antioch and gets upset. Diablos, undefeated in league play and championship bound, raps Pacifica, 27-7.

On the college front, California split an end last week and beat Oregon State. They will have to split both ends to defeat UCLA, but won't and in turn won't beat UCLA, who win 20-7.

Stanford plays Oregon and sets the stage for the big game as they upset Oregon, 20-19.

San Jose proves to have their best team as they trim Pacifica, 20-6.

Some tidbits: Arizona to take Idaho, 13-0; Pittsburg to whip Notre Dame, 12-6; in the pros, the 49ers 33, Detroit 27; Raiders 20, Boston 21.

Bonus pick: Lafayette, 20 — Rutgers, 13.

Rams Host Pittsburg in Important League Game

The Contra Costa Division of the D.V.A.L. plays a full round of games tonight, with Jayvee teams playing preliminaries to the 8 p.m. varsity games.

Pleasant Hill plays Pittsburg at home and this should play before a packed house. The Rams have been hurt with their ace fullback, Tom Foster, out and now Terry Hughes, a top pass receiver and first string line-backer, sidelined. Both have ankle sprains that have failed to respond.

PITTSBURG, resting uncomfortably in the deep dark cellar, has yet to win in league play, while the Rams are one game off the league leading Diablo Red Devils, and could tie it up when they tangle next week.

Pitt, stung and hurt by successive defeats, finds itself definitely out of the race, but ready to take it out on somebody, and it could be the Rams.

Pleasant Hill has an impressive record to date and has only a Clayton Valley loss in league play. It's Pittsburg brawn against Ram speed.

Look for the Rams to take to the air, particularly if they have any ground trouble, as they have top passers paced by veteran senior Archie Allison.

DIABLO PLAYS Pacifica at

Pittsburg and figures to have too many guns for the home club. Diablos, the class of the league, looks to be a shoo-in and while Pacifica makes a battle of it for a half, Diablo power, speed, and all around ability figure to make it another win for the Concord eleven.

Clayton Valley plays at Antioch and while the Paper City team has played well, they are the underdogs in this one. The Clayton Valley Eagles, stung by defeat in their loss to Diablo, must win if they are to stay in pennant contention at least on a mathematical basis. All around weight and experience advantage give the Clayton Eagles the inside track.

Clash Could Determine Foothill League Winner

The Foothill League rolls on with another round of play going today.

The dopesters picked Acalanes and Piedmont to fight it out for the top spot and that's the way it has gone, with both clubs undefeated in league entering tonight's game with Acalanes at Piedmont.

Each club suffered a setback in practice tilts, with Piedmont losing to Pleasant Hill and Acalanes to Mt. Diablo.

THE DONS' forward line has been inconsistent in its play, but figures to hold its own if it is keyed up. One interesting duel should be between George Conn of Piedmont and Denny Toll of Acalanes at the tackle spot.

Both clubs have speedy and experienced backfields and the line could well, and probably will, decide the issue.

Acalanes holds an edge in passing with Tom Strain at quarterback doing the throwing, and he rates as one of the area's best with prime targets in ends Doug Inman and Jim Rinne.

Piedmont lost its top passer in Steve Hogan with an injury two weeks ago and while his replacement, Bill Clayton, has done a good job of ball handling, he still falls short in the passing department.

THE BIG JOB will be stopping Piedmont's running game spearheaded by all-league Bobby Jones, who just last week racked up three touchdowns in the opening half.

Piedmont's top runner, John Pfeffer, has been sidelined with an injury and much depends on how ready he is.

Look for Chris Rinne and Stewart Fox to rack up some good yardage for Acalanes. It's the game of the week and the winner assures himself of at least a tie for the championship. It will be broadcast as the game of the week.

LAS LOMAS hosts San Ramon, and while the Knights are down and lack good all-around speed, they still appear to have plenty to whip the invaders.

Lomas has had the ability to capitalize on breaks as witnessed by their defeating Mt. Diablo, Alhambra and tying Miramonte.

In Mike Breuleux they have a good passer who spells trouble for San Ramon. Harold Stephenson has been a top Knight performer who runs, passes and plays a good defensive game and promises to be in San Ramon's hair all night long.

San Ramon has as yet to win, and lack of depth plus no real good top eleven could well go the season without a win.

MIRAMONTE, the circuit's surprise club, takes on Alhambra this afternoon in Miramonte and this could be a dandy.

Miramonte in three league games has been close, but has yet to win.

Alhambra gave a good account of themselves last week, but split at the seams to lose to Acalanes, 20-13, after leading, 13-0, at the halfway mark.

The Mats have been playing good ball and many figure this is one they can and will win. QUARTERBACK Bill Hilger has turned into a top quarterback who handles the ball well and is a good passer. Top receiver is Jack Gilbert, who promises to give the Bulldog aerial defense a real test.

Randy Corsi, returning to action, has been effective in practice all week, as he was in the Las Lomas game, and will keep Alhambra's defense honest "up the middle."

The question here will be, "Can Miramonte be high four games in a row?" The 3:30 p.m. kickoff will tell the tale.

Sports & Games

It's interesting to note the number of outstanding football players this side of the tunnel this year. What a backfield a coach could have had if these kids were around ten years ago when the school district had only one high school. Imagine an offense of Strain (Acalanes) QB, Foster (Pleasant Hill) FB, Fox (Acalanes) and C. Rinne (Acalanes) HB's. On defense, Stephenson (Las Lomas), Toome (Clayton Valley) Cammeron (Del Valle), and J. Rinne (Acalanes).

Incidentally we've watched these boys come along over the years. They have been customers of ours and the one thing they have in common is attitude. They are willing to put out. Everyone of them, too, is a better than average student which knocks out the old theory that in order to be in athletics, you can't be a student.

200 Girls Will Attend Home Economics Fete

More than 200 guests are expected at the third annual "Career Horizons in Home Economics" reception at Las Lomas High School on November 15 at 3:30.

Guests are young women selected from each of the 11 high schools and 10 junior high schools in East Contra Costa County.

Also invited to attend are the girls' mothers and the home-making and science teachers from the schools represented.

The reception is sponsored by the Diablo Valley Chapter of Home Economists in Homemaking.

Mrs. Philip Langley, president, said the purpose of the reception is to acquaint the girls and their mothers with the career opportunities available in home economics.

A speaker panel representing various fields in home economics will be presented to the guests.

On the panel will be Annabel Post, home economics editor for Sunset Magazine; Dr. Helene Hanson, nutrition researchist at the Western Research and Development Division of U.S.D.A.

Grace Kampen, home furnishings specialist, Agriculture Extension Service at University of California; Velma Bradfield, supervisor of homemaking education at State Department of Education; and Jean Langley, homemaker and former home economics teacher.

THE DIABLO Valley home economists group is composed of graduate home economists who are now "homemakers." The aim of the organization is to keep abreast with recent developments in home economics and to engage in community service.

Mrs. Harry Morrison of Walnut Creek is chairman.

Committee heads are Mesdames Jack Steger of Danville, program; Keith Thornton of Lafayette, invitations; Donald Lister of Walnut Creek, reception; William Roberts of Walnut Creek, decorations; Jack Weightman of Danville, refreshments; and Ben Cornwell of Concord, publicity.

The reception will be held at the multi-use room of Las Lomas High School.

GIRLS WITH strong interests in home economics will attend the "Career Horizons in Home Economics" reception, to be sponsored November 15 at Las Lomas High by the Diablo Valley Chapter of Home Economists in Homemaking. Left to right: Mrs. Philip Langley, Barbara Hauser and Mrs. Harry Morrison.

Dr. Marchus Will Head Heart Fund Campaign Here

Dr. Floyd Marchus, county superintendent of schools, will be chairman of the 1961 Heart Fund campaign here, the Contra Costa County Heart Association announced this week.

The plans for the fund-raising drive in February call for two efforts in local communities. The traditional Heart Sunday drive when volunteers call on residents in all areas scheduled for February 26.

An earlier canvass will be directed toward business and professional offices and stores in downtown areas and shopping centers.

"Heart Days for Business" volunteers will make their calls the week of February 6 through 11.

In accepting the appointment, the new chairman pointed out the importance of supporting research into the cardiovascular diseases which yearly take a toll of life greater than any other single cause.

The Contra Costa County Heart Association supports the research studies of five Bay Area scientists working in clinics and university laboratories in addition to supporting research projects of the American Heart Association, to which all chapters contribute on a percentage basis.

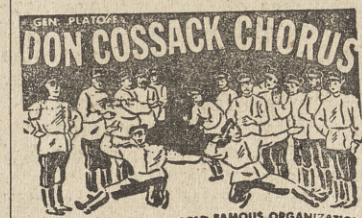

Board Adds Four Members

Four broker members have been added to the Contra Costa Real Estate Board, it was announced.

They are Harold Nordmeyer of Lafayette, Lou Loewen of Orinda, Louise Berne of Walnut Creek, Don Rath of Concord.

It was also announced that the board directors voted to reduce the Multiple Listing Service fee to one per cent for the rest of this year.

The reduction will bring the income of the board for 1960 into line with the budget and will be revised upwards beginning next year.

Members and guests of the Antioch, Concord, Martinez, Orinda, Pleasant Hill and Walnut Creek branches of the American Association of University Women will gather together first for a coffee hour and then for three concurrent round table discussions.

1. Library expansion plans and problems with Mrs. Bertha Helum, county librarian.
2. Social welfare services available and services needed with a panel of: John Davis, county probation officer; Edward Nathan, county hospital (mental health); Roy Andreen, counselor for Contra Costa School department; Mrs. Hazel Bearss, director child welfare.
3. County government and planning with John Dunlop foreman of the 1959 Grand Jury and two committee chairmen, Mrs. Duncan Knudsen and Mrs. Calvin Duncan.

At 12 p.m. the group will meet for a luncheon. At that time the three reporters will tell the group what was discussed at each of the roundtables.

Mrs. Warren Boggess will report on the planning, Mrs. Robert Taines on Library and Mrs. Ruth Roskelly on Social Welfare.

Dr. Elizabeth Bauer AAUW, state higher education chairman and a Guggenheim Fellow in economics at the University of California will then address the group and give a summation of the workshop.

NEW TUNNEL

When the proposed new third tunnel connecting Oakland with Contra Costa County is completed, traffic will be directed as follows, reports the California State Automobile Association. The southernmost existing tunnel will be used for traffic from Oakland to Orinda. The new third tunnel will carry traffic from Orinda to Oakland. The traffic in the center tunnel will be reversible and will be changed to accommodate the heavier direction of travel at peak hours.

COUNTY officials will discuss county problems at a workshop tomorrow at Diablo Valley College for members and guests of several area branches of AAUW. Giving reports for AAUW will be Mesdames Warren Boggess, left and Robert Taines.

Which do you want?

Again and again and again, in the Great Debates, candidate Kennedy has advocated policies of appeasement that in the past have led to war. He has run down his own country's strength and accomplishments before the eyes of the world. He has advocated domestic policies that would hike our taxes, lower our standard of living, encourage a disastrous round of runaway inflation, and inflict Government controls in countless areas of our everyday lives.

Instead of standing firm against the brutal belligerence of Khrushchev, candidate Kennedy has suggested that an American President should apologize for protecting America from another Pearl Harbor.

In sharp contrast, Vice-President Nixon—and Ambassador Lodge—know that to keep America strong and free, our country's leaders must believe in freedom—for Americans and people of good will everywhere.

Richard Nixon knows that America can't continue to win the race against Communist Russia if we retreat from our proved system of freedom, and fall into the pattern of an all-powerful Government that controls every aspect of its people's lives.

New Lantanas Will Give Exciting Garden Color

Have you looked at Lantanas recently? If not, you'd never know them for the proletarian little shrubs of yesteryear. As with so many other species of plant, the hybridist has produced some exciting new looks in the Lantana family.

It's worth a special check next time you are near a California Association of Nurserymen nursery. You'll find not only improved colors, but improved forms with a trim look about them that the more ragged family forebears seldom enjoyed.

ESPECIALLY worth note are some of the new spreading varieties. Gold Rush was the first of these and still one of the best. Its deep green foliage is a perfect background for the masses of golden yellow blooms.

In recent years, Gold Rush has been joined in this group by a series of new Lantanas. Their names are indicative of the modern nurseryman's feeling for the group. We find Cream Carpet, Pink Frolic, Confetti, Spreading Sunset and Sunburst. They sound appealing and they are.

Cream Carpet sports creamy white blooms with yellow throats. Pink Frolic's colors are predominantly pink, interspersed with yellow. Confetti mixes yellow, purple and pink in its color scheme. Spreading Sunset, as the name indicates, is a rich, orange-red, and Sunburst is a crisp, clean yellow.

THE FAMILY has its shrubby members, too, and here again the tendency toward neatness is apparent.

Your Garden

Nurserymen Recommend Some Shrubs for Fill

Drive through any new subdivision and you can spot the family with garden know-how. While houses on either side look starkly new, theirs has trees and shrubs that make it look established.

All of us could take a tip from this family; for there are countless times that we want something from shrubs and trees in a hurry. We lose a tree and need new shade; or we gain a neighbor whose backyard is always a clutter. Perhaps we want to tear out a vine, but shy from the resultant bareness if we do.

IF ANY OF these possibilities applies to you, or if you are starting from scratch, let's look at some of the fast growing shrubs which members of the California Association of Nurserymen recommend for a quick fill.

First, if you're in need of shade, try the Fruitless Mulberry. It is deciduous, but who wants shade in winter? Fast growing even in unfriendly conditions, it will grow by leaps and bounds with frequent water at the start.

Poplars are very fast to put on height. A row of them has always been easy to look at when in leaf. And in winter, the structure of their bare branches deserves a place in the history of scenic calendar art.

A TALL SHRUB or a small tree depending on how you view it—is the Victorian Box. It grows four to six feet a year with watering at the start and will bush out or branch out overhead depending on how you handle the shears.

The familiar Brush Cherry forms a dense screen or hedge in a hurry, as does Privet when well watered. Nearer the ground, Rock Roses and Lantanas are only two of the many that any C.A.N. nurseryman can show you.

There are many fast-growing vines, but the Giant Burmese Honeysuckle will outstrip most of them once it gets started. And when you've seen its large glossy leaves and long tubes of bloom, you'll agree it's a bargain at any speed.

Roses Will Respond to Full Care Feeding

There's nothing sure about gardening if it isn't that roses respond to late summer care. Give it to them and they bloom as beautifully in fall as they did in spring. Deny it and they get steadily more bedraggled until you'd hardly know them for the gorgeous vehicles of bloom that they are.

The prime need of most roses in late summer is food. They are gross feeders when producing new canes and bloom through spring and early summer. Therefore, they need a reserve to draw on for continued production.

NEEDLESS to say, water is all important for continued growth. After feeding, give your roses a long, slow soaking to put the nutrients down where they are needed. Continue watering regularly until rain takes the task off your hands. A good thick mulch of steer manure or peat moss around each plant helps conserve moisture.

Your next step is to gauge the pruning needs of your rose gardens. To promote new growth, pruning at this time of year should be confined to heading back wood which has already bloomed.

Renew any wood that shows signs of die-back by cutting to an eye below the dead wood. If you have cut rose stems to the proper length, such pruning may not be needed now. In any case, it should be light.

It's Not Wise to Allow Gladiolus To Winter Over

Here is the gardener's checklist for this week:

Continue to dig gladiolus as the tops yellow off. Leaving them to winter over will only increase their chances of attracting thrips.

Use pots of Chrysanthemums in bloom to brighten a drab deck or to bring festive fall colors into the house.

Sow spring-flowering Sweet Peas. Dig a good deep trench and layer manure at the bottom. Then add a layer of topsoil and the seed.

Spring flowering bulbs still top your planting list this week. Daffodils, Tulips, Hyacinths—all of them can go in.

Continue to rake fallen leaves and mulch them if you have the space for it. If you don't, burn them, especially if your plants are subject to mildew, rust, or common plant diseases.

Moraga District Will Increase Size of Board

Two additional members for the Moraga School District board of trustees will be elected at the regular school board election in April. Superintendent Charles Toll announced.

Toll explained that at the school board's last regular meeting, a resolution was passed increasing the size of the board from three to five members.

He said this is permitted by the State Education Board when a school district reaches the average daily attendance figure of 300 students. This figure was surpassed by the Moraga district during the 1959-60 school year.

The Moraga board is waiting for an appointment from the county superintendent of schools to fill the vacancy created by the recent resignation of Thomas Peck. Remaining members of the board are Donald Falconer.

Daughters To Install Officers

Installation of officers of Las Amiguitas Unit No. 33, Junior Native Daughters of the Golden West, Walnut Creek, will be held Monday.

The rites will be held in the auditorium of the Buena Vista School of San Juan Avenue at 8 p.m.

Miss Barbara Corrigan, daughter of Mrs. Veronica Garland of Mary Court, Danville, will be installed as president of the Junior Unit.

Other unit officers are: Past president, Carlene Stubblefield; vice-president, Kathy Harber; marshal, Cheryl Charron; sentinel, Frances Corrigan; recording secretary, Priscilla Laws; treasurer, Jackie Smith; trustees, Pat Sullivan, Sharon Magnesi and Denise Isola; organist, Ann Rutledge.

Miss Bonnie Jean Lewis of Lafayette, past president of the unit, will be installing officer. She will be assisted by the Misses Jane David, Nancy Beckmeyer and Jeanne Knabenshuh.

MISS SHARON Magnesi will be chairman for the evening. After a program of entertainment, refreshments will be served. The rites are open to parents and friends of members of the Junior Unit, also all Senior Parlor Native Daughters.

5 Dozen Autos in Big Display

More than five dozen 1961 automobiles, domestic and imported, will be on display Friday and Saturday during the "Walnut Creek Auto Display and Dollar Days." Twelve area auto agencies will provide the brand-spanking new cars of all varieties, and they will be located in two places—the municipal parking lot on Mt. Diablo Boulevard and North Broadway, also the Broadway center lot.

ALL MODELS of domestic and imported standards, compacts and sport cars will be included in the display, representing over 30 auto lines. Each of the bright, new '61 cars will be topped by a giant balloon floating above the unit and proclaiming the event. This is the first all-inclusive auto display of the season in the central county. Thousands of small balloons specially designed for the event will be given away during the weekend. Committeemen said the idea for the show is to allow area residents to conveniently see all of the new cars in one location and to spend as much time as desired in making comparison of features. THEY ALSO noted that the cars will be on display only. The Dollar Days will begin tomorrow in Walnut Creek and will feature bargains in all classifications, as planned by the Walnut Creek Area Chamber of Commerce Retail Merchants Committee. Dollar Annex Delayed; But An 'Out' Glimmers

By POLITICUS

Although the filing of intent to circulate petitions for Alamo incorporation has momentarily stopped Walnut Creek's plans for annexing the Dollar Ranch, the city may also have the chance to exercise its own "jurisdiction" in future hearings.

The Alamo incorporation boundaries were approved by the County Boundary Commission, Tuesday, but this also included the Cortese annexation—an annexation which the city has been working on for some time.

Consequently, when the matter of boundaries came up for final determination before the Board of Supervisors, the City of Walnut Creek can call "foul" and ask for exclusion of Cortese annexation, also the Dailey annexation—an entering wedge.

THE APPLICATION of the 90-day rule to Walnut Creek comes because the Alamo filing with the county was just a day ahead of the Dollar Ranch filing with the city.

The city's action recently setting November 16 for annexation adoption was taken because no official notice had been received of the county filing.

But such county filing still takes precedence. The matter will probably be continued then.

At the future supervisor's hearing, protests will also be called for, and it is likely that the Stanley Dollar heirs or their representatives will be there to protest incorporation with Alamo, since it is the heirs who seek annexation to Walnut Creek.

The entire matter may be worked out without the resort to law courts.

AT A RECENT hearing, Robert Goeckermann, spokesman for the Alamo Improvement Association, said his incorporation group intends to go ahead, despite the annexation move, but upon questioning by the commissioners, he mentioned a possible out.

Alamo people are concerned about local control, although four years ago their incorporation effort bogged down.

But they are also highly concerned about the avalanche of school kids on the Alamo School District in its portion of the Dollar Ranch, once developed.

If a petition is filed for exclusion of Dollar Ranch from the Alamo District—and if this is agreeable to the Alamo District and the Walnut Creek District is willing to take over in that area—the main Alamo objections may be stilled.

LAST TUESDAY District Attorney John Nejedly declined to rule whether Alamo or Walnut Creek moves take precedence, and advised both sides to seek legal counsel. And he advised the Boundary Commission to stick to its legal function.

Debate over the next steps has been widespread, and opinions diverse.

600 Books on Display Next Week in County

Six hundred books for children of elementary and junior high school age will be exhibited in three locations in Contra Costa County from Monday November 15.

"Books on Exhibit," which consist of selections from 30 publishers and include many just off the press, will be displayed Monday-Tuesday in Pittsburg, next Wednesday and Thursday in Martinez and November 14-15 in Danville.

Teachers, students and other interested persons will view the books at the following hours:

Heights School, "Home of the Bufano Bear"—referring to a gift of sculptor Bufano—at Pittsburg. John Muir School, Martinez, next Wednesday, 1 to 5:30 p.m., and November 10, 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Montair Annex, Danville, November 14, 1 to 5:30 p.m., and November 15, 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

Library directors of the various school districts and the County Schools Library are sponsoring the exhibit.

Time may be reserved for larger groups of students by telephone.

'The Mikado' Is In Rehearsal; Cast Listed

Casting is complete and members of the Diablo Light Opera Company are eager to begin rehearsals on "The Mikado," the company's fall production.

Directors James Schwartz and Virginia Blair plan rehearsals Monday nights at Las Lomas High School in Walnut Creek.

Members of the cast include Hal Zuckerman of Danville, who will portray Ko Ko, "the Lord High Executioner"; Donald Poulton of Oakland, and Donald Moss of Martinez are both to sing and act the role of Nanki Poo, a wandering minstrel.

Pat Wilson of Concord and Marie Michael of Walnut Creek are also double cast as the lovely Yum Yum.

Other cast members are Katherine King of Oakland, Vince Wood, Walt Schill, Jan Schill and Gay Turner of Concord; Arloun Munro, Dick Henderson and Jeanette Sahlin of Walnut Creek, Norm Sowards of Danville.

Overseas Mail Has Deadlines

Overseas mail to persons in the armed services should be in the post office between Tuesday and November 20.

"Though this is before Christmas Seals will be mailed to homes anyone wishing to use the traditional Christmas Seals on overseas mail may procure them by calling the office of the Tuberculosis Association," said Mrs. Edythe Tucker, executive director.

The Contra Costa Tuberculosis and Health Association is located at 105 Astrid Drive in Pleasant Hill.

Board or committee members who may be contacted outside the Pleasant Hill area are Mrs. George Chapman, Antioch; Bernard J. Callaghan, Brentwood; Mrs. Theresa Ratto, Richmond; Mrs. Kae Van Nuy, Alamo; Mrs. C. J. Knudsen, Martinez.

The exotic Cyclamen is an amazing performer in California gardens. Plants which you buy in bloom at nurseries this month, will usually show color right through winter and still be in bloom when spring arrives. If you live inland where winter's frost is apt to be severe, keep Cyclamen in pots and grow them either in a window, on a sun porch or under some overhead protection outdoors.

Christmas Rose Family Blooms in Cool Weather

Most people call them Christmas Roses, which makes "most people" only half or one-third correct. Actually, they are members of the Hellebore family, of which Christmas Rose is only one.

Whatever you call them, you will be doing the right thing by planting them in your garden. For when weather cools and many another plant goes out of bloom, the Hellebores are primed to start their seasonal show.

OF THE THREE most commonly offered by northern members of the California Association of Nurserymen, the first to show its blooms is Christmas Rose. Often in bloom by the holiday season, it sets its mass of blooms one to the stem, primarily in white or white with tints of purple.

Lenten Roses make their appearance after the first of the year and differ from their earlier cousins in that flowers are borne several to the stem in a wider range of colors. By no means are these the showy colors of summer annuals, but the gardener will be intrigued by the shades of white to purple, rose and maroon which come his way in a steady succession.

Most intriguing of all, perhaps, is the Corsican Hellebore, a shrubby member of the family that produces arms of pale green flowers in late winter and early spring. As cut flowers, or on the plant, they will earn their share of comments from those who see them.

Christmas and Lenten Roses are shade lovers and made ideal companions to Camellias. Full grown at 12 to 18 inches, they will carpet an area of shade and offer their non-clashing, decidedly different blooms as a base from which Camellias can show off.

Corsican Hellebore is more tolerant of heat and stands sun in coastal areas. It shrubs up to three feet high and landscapers like its sharply cut foliage—artichoke-like in appearance—as a year round accent in borders and foundations.

Dagger Dance In Cossack Show Sunday

One of the most exciting interludes in the program of the Don Cossack dancers and singers, to be presented at Las Lomas High School Sunday afternoon at 3 p.m., is the hair-raising dagger dance performed by G. Soloduhin.

This startling performer, who flings daggers from his teeth, is probably the most photographed Cossack in the world.

He has made dozens of motion pictures and is summoned to Hollywood whenever there is a call for a colorful Cossack in a movie.

A daring horseman, Soloduhin also has been featured by Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey's Circus in riding spectacles, performing the famous Cossack trick of riding strapped to a horse's belly.

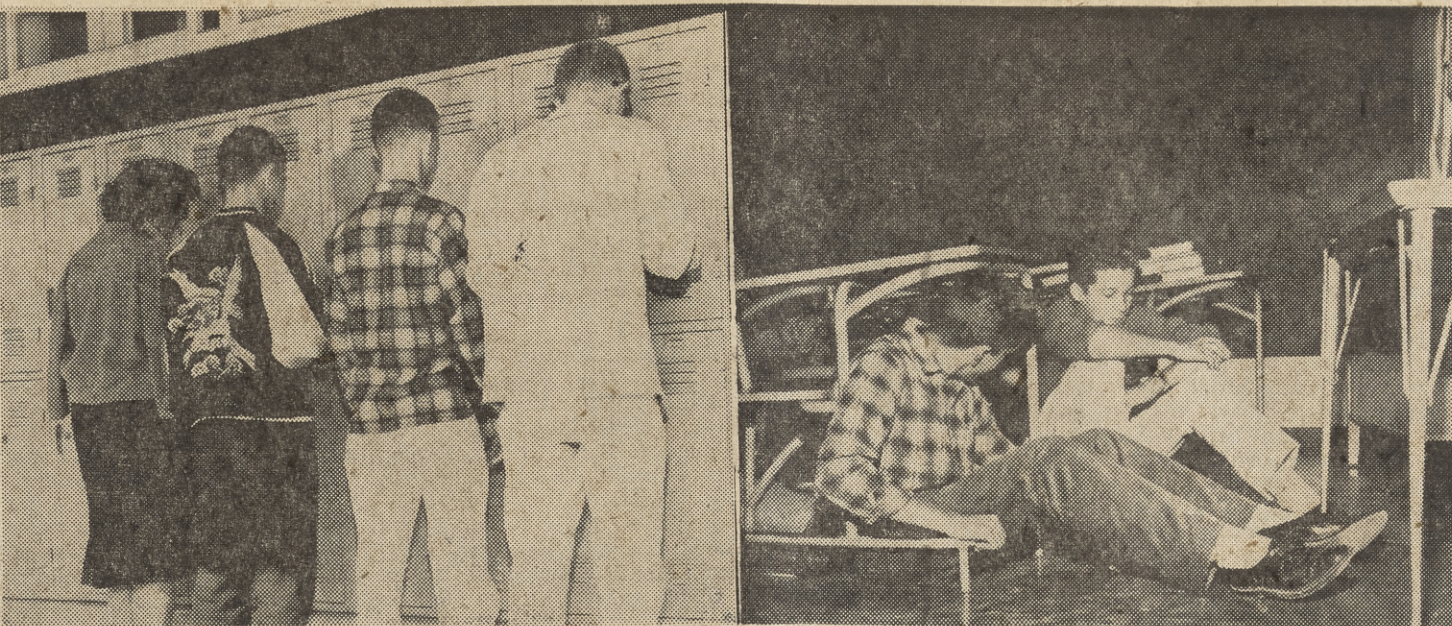

In the current program of the Cossacks' Soloduhin is featured in the Loginka, a barbaric Caucasian dance which begins on the sad lilt of a peasant song and concludes in a wild dance of jubilation.

With the entire chorus providing the choral background, Soloduhin performs the traditional dance with daggers which never fails to stir his audience.

The local appearance of the Cossacks will be their only showing in Contra Costa County.

The event is sponsored by the Walnut Creek Lions Club, with proceeds benefiting the blind and other charitable activities of the group.

Tickets are on sale at Reilly's Music Shop, City School of Music, Sherman & Clay, Music Town, Diablo Box Office and Lions Club members.

CROUCHING under their desks are Jay Unverferth, left, and Alan Peralta. The alert lasted only a few minutes. In the Spring, a regular "Walk-Home" Civil Defense Drill will be held. The CD drills are directed by math teacher Jack LaSalle.

Pageant of Art Moves Toward Adequate Gallery

The Diablo Pageant of Arts Society is moving rapidly toward the realization of its goal — an adequate art gallery for Walnut Creek.

Last Spring when the Naval Electronic Unit vacated the quonset hut in City Park, the city council was dubious about the possibility of converting such an eyesore to practical purpose, but was persuaded to turn it over to the Diablo Pageant of Arts Society.

Pageant personnel, preparing for the 5th Annual Pageant in May, struggled dismally in the midst of chaos. They were bunched in sweaters against the blasts of icy air from windows and doors propped open to dispel paint fumes; they typed under umbrellas made necessary by leaks in the roof; painters climbed over and around them, and work for the May showing collected in vast heaps in the bare interior of the hut.

Now, with three one man shows behind them and a Christmas Crafts display in process, surprising transformation has taken place. The hut has been painted inside and out and the leaks in the roof hunted down and repaired under the direction of Walt Dusenbery of the City Public Works Dept.

There are plans for further improvement.

Family Service Board Holds Annual Meeting

The first annual meeting of the Contra Costa Family Service Board was held last night at the Concord Inn. The chairman was Ben Hartinger, board member and Pleasant Hill attorney.

The Contra Costa Family Service was organized two years ago. Offices were opened in Richmond and Alamo by the Contra Costa Counseling Service, which has provided professional counseling on a flat fee basis to persons with marital, parent-child and other inter-personal difficulties.

THE STAFF consists of eight professionally trained and experienced social workers who have assisted close to 400 individuals during this first year.

Mrs. C. M. Edgett, current president of the board, expressed her appreciation to Judge Manuel C. Rose of Antioch, who served as the first president, and to the representatives of the 32nd District PTA who had endorsed the project initially.

Among those who spoke at the annual meeting were William Smith of Pleasant Hill, who described the value of the counseling service to school principals.

Smith said in the course of the year he saw at least 60 parents whose children experienced learning difficulties related to family conflicts.

"THE CONTRA Costa Counseling Service provides a most useful resource for us to assist families in getting help with their problems," he declared.

Dr. Kermit Wiltse, a counselor, spoke about the experiences of the Alamo group during the year and Philip Mass, MSW, described the trends in the Richmond office. It was announced that the Contra Costa Counseling Service Board has applied for admission to the United Crusade in order to obtain a subsidy for those who are not able to pay the present cost of $10 per interview.

Directors are Judge Manuel C. Rose Jr., Antioch; Mrs. C. M. Edgett, Richmond; Ralph M. Kramer, Richmond; Eugene Bohan, Pittsburg; Mrs. Robert Carlson, Lafayette; Dr. George J. Paul, San Pablo; Joseph Genser, Richmond; Ben F. Hartinger, Pleasant Hill.

EDWIN V. Laplace, Richmond; Mrs. Meredith Morgan Jr., El Cerrito; William E. Smith, Concord; George Harlow, Richmond; Leonard Roth, M.D., Orinda; Rev. Gerald Lowe, Richmond; Mrs. Lennard J. Carter, Richmond; Mrs. Tudor Jones, Walnut Creek; Rev. Ralph West, Pittsburg; Mrs. Sue Ewing, El Cerrito.

Other counselors, in addition to Dr. Kermit Wiltse and Mrs. Philip Mass, are Franklin Bauer, Ruth Bright, Elizabeth Coyle, Clifford Bonham, Scott Briar, James Jennings.

Cancer Holiday Cards Can Be Personalized

In answer to many requests, the American Cancer Society has made special arrangements for imprinting names of donors on the Christmas card the Contra Costa branch has available for order now. Mrs. Helen Macfarlane, executive director of the county society, said.

"Names can be imprinted for professional or business firms ordering the holiday card in quantity, and for individuals ordering enough to make the extra printing feasible," she said.

There is no charge for the name imprint, and the price of the attractive card is for the purchaser to determine in the knowledge that all contributions will be used to further the cancer society's research, lifesaving education and service to patients' programs throughout the county.

Girl Scouts Help World Understanding

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second in a series of articles explaining the work and purposes of the Girl Scout program. The articles are written by Mrs. William J. Marshall of Orinda, public relations chairman for the Diablo Valley area Girl Scout Council.

Just as an interpretive card would explain the title is in English, German, French, Japanese and Spanish, we hope these articles on Girl Scouting will amplify the aims and purpose of the organization and explain needs for various programs.

Misinterpretation of aims and goals . . . misunderstanding of words and deeds . . . can create conflict at every level, between parents, and children; at home and abroad. When these articles are completed and volunteers come forth saying they would like to work in the Girl Scout organization — we will know, to use a vernacular expression, "You got the message!"

THOSE OF US who are dedicated to the 'Scout' way of life firmly believe that every parent would seek out a Scout troop and immediately offer assistance, if they

Bigg's Talk Delivered to Big Audience

A capacity audience attended the first presentation of the 1960-61 Concert and Forum series at Diablo Valley College Wednesday evening, to hear Donald C. Biggs talk on "The Citizen in World Affairs."

Biggs, director of the California Historical Society, described a citizen as a "politician" in the original Greek meaning of the word—a well-informed member of a society.

The second presentation of the series will feature Edgar Jones, well-known Bay Area baritone, in a concert in the Diablo Valley College gymnasium next Wednesday at 8:30 p.m.

There are still a limited number of series tickets available at the bookstores at Diablo Valley College and Contra Costa College.

Series tickets, at $2 per ticket, can also be obtained by writing to Chairman, Committee on Arts and Lectures, Diablo Valley College, Concord.

Checks should be made payable to the Contra Costa College Junior College District.

understood how much could be gained by themselves and their daughters, through good Girl Scout programming.

We feel we are helping to lay the foundation for aptitudes and actions that can go a long way toward helping our children solve some of the problems which our 'times' have thrust upon us.

The world is growing small so swiftly that it demands that we grow big to cope with its problems. In more than 40 countries around the world, girls who share the same code of honor and the same kind of activities are linked together through the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts.

THIS international affiliation gives American Girl Scouts a picture of a world that is wide, varied and not really too distant from their own neighborhood!

Juliette Low, the founder of Girl Scouting in the United States said in 1912, "Scouting and Guiding can be the magic thread which links the youth of the world together." With the problems confronting us today of racial integration at home, strained foreign relations, etc., is there one who doubts the need of a 'magic thread'?

Each year, Girl Scouts welcome to cities and towns across the U.S.A. more than 100 Guide and Girl Scout visitors — girls and adults — from 30 to 40 different countries. Many of these visitors come through the Girl Scout International Exchange Program.

THE EXCHANGE program sends 100 or more American Senior Girl Scouts and adults abroad each year. Some go to international gatherings at World Association Centers for Girl Guides and Girl Scouts, Our Chalet in Switzerland or Our Cabana in Mexico. Some go to camps and conferences in other countries, some assist with leadership training or service projects — with this give and take of ideas and skills we believe our future international relations can and will be improved.

At our Annual Luncheon meeting in January we will be privileged to hear first-hand the experiences of Mrs. A. J. Angeli, San Leandro Girl Scout Leader, who was one of two United States Girl Scout Leaders chosen for Scouting duty in Europe.

Mrs. Angeli will have many things to tell us but the greatest experience to her was a pilgrimage to Rome with 38 girls and leaders, and two chaplains of the Flemish Catholic Church Girl Guide Movement. The troop was received by the Pope and spent one week in the Holy City.

OPPORTUNITIES such as Mrs. Angeli experienced are made possible through gifts to the Juliette Low World Fellowship Fund, to which Girl Scouts throughout the United States give pennies, nickels, dimes and dollars, which they have saved or earned to help build friendship among girls around the world.

Goldman's Tells Robert L. Weiss New Ad Manager

Robert L. Weiss, who recently resigned as advertising director for Sterling Furniture Stores, this week was named advertising and sales promotion manager for the five Goldman's stores.

The five Goldman's stores include the El Cerrito location, which will open October 27, and the Walnut Creek Broadway shop.

Weiss formerly was advertising manager for a leading Bay Area apparel chain, had apparel experience in New York City and worked with advertising agencies as an account executive and copy chief in San Francisco and Chicago.

A graduate of the University of Chicago.

Most of the fund is used for these face-to-face contacts of the International Exchange Program. Part is used to help Girl Scouts in places where the movement is just starting. Some is used to help children who are victims of catastrophes in other countries.

The Fourth Law — of the 10 every Girl Scout accepts — is most appropriate: "A Girl Scout is a friend to all, and a sister to every other Scout."

Our next article will cover our contributions in the field of mental health.

Has Role in Fall Production

Four recent graduates of Diablo Valley College have featured roles in the second Fall production at San Francisco State College, according to Harvey Beriman, drama director at Diablo Valley.

Among those named was Robin Baker of Pleasant Hill. The four students were active in drama at Diablo Valley College under Beriman and Mrs. Bess Whitcomb, he said.

Parking Easy In Broadway

Parking your car in Broadway Shopping Center is easy, said George Webster, Broadway Merchants Association chairman.

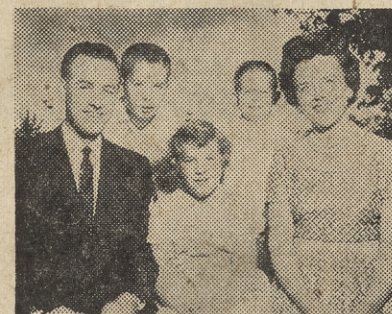

"Broadway Merchants have been careful to see that there is plenty of parking space, and this includes the big lot behind Capwells, and sizeable lots next to Lucky Store, behind Penney's and south of the Broadway Pharmacy."

"There are more than 2000 stalls, and you can find a place near where you plan to shop," he said.

George — Gary — Carol — Bill — Marge

As You Cast Your Vote Keep in Mind These Are The Things George Krueger Stands For

KRUEGER will FIGHT for reduction of state taxes and elimination of unnecessary expense in government. (During the past 10 years while Krueger has been city councilman Concord citizens have seen municipal services vastly expanded while the tax rate was cut back nearly one-third).

KRUEGER supports "job well done" raises in pay to attract and hold able people in the critical fields of teaching, juvenile delinquency, nursing and medicine.

KRUEGER wholeheartedly affirms his support of an adequate Aid to Needy Children program. But, he sees the need for constructive state and federal legislation to curb ABUSES and the subsidizing of immorality at public expense.

KRUEGER is dead-set against Governor Brown's Water Bill. He will protect all Contra Costa water rights in the '61 legislature.
